St. Paul's-Carmel Pastoral Charge Holds Congregational Meetings

Splendid Reports Heard On Activities of Organizations Rev. A. Packman Chairman

The annual Congregational meeting of St. Paul's United Church, Stirling, was held in the Sunday School rooms on Wednesday, January 26th. The meeting was preceded by a pot luck supper supplied by the ladies present, and was greatly enjoyed by all.

At 8 p.m. the meeting was called to order by Rev. A. Packman who presided as Chairman. Following the devotional period, Rev. Packman explained the purpose of the meeting as outlined in the Manual and called for the appointment of a Secretary.

The minutes of the last general meeting, January 13th, 1954, and a special meeting on March 21st, 1954, were confirmed as read.

Reports of committees were presented and adopted collectively as read:

Clerk of the Session, Mr. Geo. Carlisle; Stewards, Mr. H. J. Wells for Mr. C. A. Wells; Endowment Fund, Mr. H. J. Wells; Centennial Fund, Mr. R. A. Patterson; White Gift Fund, Mr. R. A. Patterson for Mrs. W. T. Elliott; Festival of Sacred Praise, Mr. R. A. Patterson for Mrs. W. T. Elliott; Woman's Assoc., Mrs. H. J. Wells; Parsonage Fund, Mrs. H. J. Wells; M. & M. Fund, Mr. C. E. Rev. A. Packman spoke briefly of his visits during the past 5 months, stating that he had made 410 house calls, 26 hospital calls (Belleville, Campbellford, Trenton and Kingston); he also brought to the attention of all that some of the records of the church were incomplete and asked the cooperation of all in seeing that this work was brought up-to-date in the near future.

The providing of additional classroom accommodation for the Sunday School, four of which are required at the present time, was discussed at considerable length and left for further action by the Official Board.

The addition of two more trustees to complete the Board was also left for further action by the Official Board.

Mrs. Geo. Carlisle drew attention to the W.M.S. Day of Prayer to be held in St. Paul's on Friday, February 25, at 2.30 p.m. and urged as many as possible to attend.

On motion, Mr. Geo. Carlisle was authorized and requested to write Dr. Tuttle and confirm the tentative invitation to him to be the guest speaker at anniversary services on the third Sunday of October.

The consideration of a new carpet for the front of the church was introduced and discussed and left for action by the Official Board.

Appreciation
Mr. J. L. Good voiced the appreciation of the congregation to Rev. and Mrs. A. Packman for the wonderful work they have accomplished since their arrival and wished God's blessing for their continued good work in the future. Both Rev. and Mrs. Packman expressed their thanks for the kind words and voiced their desire to be of continued service to the congregation.

The meeting closed with prayer by Rev. A. Packman.

Special Meeting
A special congregational meeting was called at the close of morning worship on January 30th and the following reports were presented and adopted collectively: Senior Choir, Mr. Grant Richardson; Sunday School, Mr. Bryce Philp; Mission Band, Mrs. Jack McCaughen; Baby Band, Mrs. Wm. Wilkins.

The February meeting will be a social evening held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. Rollins on February 14th. Misses Gena and Rosa Spry are the conveners.

The bad weather. A pot luck supper preceded the meeting and this proved a very enjoyable social affair.

The minister, Rev. A. Packman, presided and after conducting devotions, the agenda was introduced and approved, the meeting being constituted according to the Manual.

The year 1954 was a big one for this Church and Community, during which a large sum of money had to be raised and spent on decorations and furnishings. The Church is to be congratulated for the effort. Reports were read by the treasurer and other officers of the various departments, all showing successful financing and progress in the work of the Church.

Mr. Arthur Pyear, who for 30 years has been a member of the Board of Stewards, thought it was time he retired in favour of the younger men. However, the meeting thought otherwise. Recognizing the service Mr. Pyear has rendered to the Church, he was unanimously elevated to the Session, a very fitting and worthy action following service in the former court.

The accounts reported were, income: Woman's Association, $1,992; General Account, $1,110; Sunday School, $130; Young Adults, $313; Mission and Maintenance, $115.

Stirling Legion Skating Carnival Proves Very Successful Event

Large Crowd Enjoys Good Programme — Skaters Appear in Colourful Costumes

A real snappy winter's night could not keep a good crowd away from the Stirling Legion Skating Carnival on Thursday night of last week at the local arena. A splendid sheet of ice which was thrown open at the commencement, furnished all the skating to be desired.

At 8.15 an exhibition game of Pee Wee hockey between two Stirling teams — the Maple Leafs and the Canadians — rocked the house and ended in a scoreless tie.

Many Costumes

Following this the ice was again taken over by the skaters and judging for prizes was undertaken. The best of the delightful costumes seen resulted as follows:

Best dressed lady — Jo. Luery, donated by Bateman's Ladies' Wear
Best dressed gent — Dr. R. Vandervoort, donated by R. A. Patterson Best dressed girl — Rita Andrews, donated by Mrs. A. Stevenson.
Best dressed boy — Bob Noble, donated by Hutton Hardware
Best dressed couple — Carl Sleeper and Joan Fraser, donated by Noble's Drug Store
Best dressed comic — Ted Reynolds, donated by McGee Hardware
Oldest skater — Fred Mallory, donated by Hermiston's Drug Store

Broom Ball Game Enjoyed

Considerable hilarity was caused by the Broom Ball game between the Legion and Rotary, and this item on the programme was thoroughly enjoyed by all, with the Rotary winning by a 4 to 0 score.

Another period of skating, during which favours were handed out, brought another Carnival evening to a close.

MONTGOMERY'S GARAGE DAMAGED BY FIRE

Considerable damage was done to the interior of Bill Montgomery's Service Station at the corner of Front Street West and the Frankford road early Monday morning when fire broke out caused by overheated pipes, gutting the interior of the building.

The fire was discovered about 2.00 a.m. by Mr. Montgomery, who lives next door to the garage. The Stirling Volunteer Fire Brigade responded to the alarm in a matter of minutes, and under Chief R. E. Fox, fought the blaze in 18 below zero temperature for more than an hour before bringing the blaze under control.

Two cars were pushed from the building, but not before paint and tires on the vehicles were ruined. A quantity of auto accessories stored in the building was lost.

Neither team counted in the second stanza but Wellington received two penalties. Wellington rallied in the third period to take advantage of the locals and whipped in five goals, to make the final count 5 to 2 in favour of the visitors.

Referees Ogilvy and Vandervoort handed out a penalty to each side in the third period.

Stewards Hold Service At St. Paul's United Church

Christian Living in every day life was the theme of the evening when Dr. Cornett gave the address for the Stewards on Sunday night. Drawing from his experience as a referee in football games, he urged the necessity of knowing the rules of the game.

First, he outlined the duties of those appointed to the office of Steward and then passed on to his main thought. Christian living entails such virtues as kindness, gentility in thought word and deed.

Fifty per-cent of all sickness, said the doctor is due, not to germs, but to people. Actions and attitudes towards others are responsible for more than enough of what we too often put down to germs.

Illustrating from the life of Dr. Albert Schweitzer, the German Missionary to the Africans, who once was interned by the French, Dr. Cornett said Dr. Schweitzer has been honoured by the world, not because he is a great doctor, nor because he is a great accomplished lawyer and musician, but because he is the world's greatest Christian.

Using Rotary's Four Way Test — Is it the truth? Is it fair to all concerned? Will it build goodwill and further friendship? Will it be beneficial to all concerned — Dr. Cornett pleaded for genuine Christian thought and action.

Others taking part in the service were: a good choir composed of Stewards and their ladies, solos by Mrs. Cecil Macklin and Mrs. William Wilkins. The lessons were read by Mr. E. D. Ketcheson and Mr. Harold Wells. Mr. Clare West conducted the service.

Officers of the Board
At a meeting following the evening service, Dr. William Cornett was re-elected chairman. Mr. E. D. Ketcheson was urged to continue as Secretary, but he felt he should not take on this responsibility for the fourth year. Mr. Gordon Bailey was appointed in his place. Mr. C. A. Wells was re-elected Treasurer.

ANNE HIRST Your Family Counselor

"Dear Anne Hirst: I am not far from 40, and I'm frightened. Why is it that all my life I've not been able to hold a man? I've tried to be all that is expected of a woman kind, understanding, sympathetic, charming and intelligent. I am considered more than pretty, and I have no difficulty at all in attracting men. But —

"Usually it's only about five or six months after an eligible male starts dating me, sparing no affection (and making vague promises) that the friendship goes haywire. I feel he grows bored — which of course makes me self-conscious and unable to converse on impersonal topics like world affairs, sports and other subjects that interest men and interest me, too.

"Then I can only deplore the things I will never have — a husband, a home and children.

"I am a professional young woman, and certainly should be a more interesting companion than a housewife who can only talk food prices, children, and what new clothes or jewelry she can coax from her husband. . . . Here I wait, hoping the right one will come along before I'm too old to care.

"Men only seem to be out for what they can get, someone to practice lovemaking on (as one reader put it) so they'll know how to proceed when their true love arrives.

"Do you think there is a destiny that controls our lives? That no matter how desperately one tries to change a situation it is to no avail? That perhaps my particular destiny is never to have what all women want and most of them get — a man of their own?

ONE LONELY WOMAN

* Fatalists seem to believe that what is to be will be, and are convinced that it is futile to struggle against one's predestination. I am not one of those.

* When a woman knows what she wants, I think she should lay her plans to get it. First, to deserve it and prepare for it, then use her ingenuity and common sense to pursue the search. Successive experiences with the male sex show her what not to do, and if she is honest in admitting mistakes she makes fewer of them.

* Frank analysis of one's failures is a help, too.

* Many a girl yields to a man's love-making early, shows a too-fervent eagerness to oblige him. This isn't smart, for he concludes he is not the first male in her life and the idea revolts him. Other young women snub a man with such hostility that he believes her incapability of emotion. He can, however, be repulsed so graciously that he feels he does appeal to her but she has too much self-respect to stoop to conquer.

* Some professional women assume an arrogance that is anathema to romance. Positive in personality, they cannot discuss any topic without showing how superior they feel. They forget that womanliness, a willingness to listen * and learn, judicious flattery and a sense of humor can still bring a man to his knees, just as a cozy dinner she prepares can dissolve a bachelor's will power. When a man is low and out of sorts, he turns to the girl he feels at home with — one who asks questions, fits his mood like a glove, who is sympathetic and tender at the right moment. She is the woman he wants to come home to, and that is the keynote of his feeling for her.

HOME WAS NEVER LIKE THIS — "Annabelle," a six-year-old orangutan from Borneo, pours herself some hot tea to warm up her inside while straw and a muffler help keep her warm on the outside. Annabelle is having trouble with London's extremely cold weather.

* Examine yourself as though you were somebody else, honestly, critically. Perhaps that will reveal what is lacking in your personality. One suggestion: It is smart to date more than one man at a time; it keeps both on their toes.

* When a girl has had your experience of failure and almost given up hope and then suddenly the right man appears, we like to call it destiny. — And then how grateful she is that all the other men passed her by!

* Never give up hope. Your most comforting thought should be that we cannot know what tomorrow will bring.

If you feel that love and life are passing you by, cheer up! Tomorrow is another day, and its adventures are hidden to us. Keep yourself in the mood for romance, and don't despair. It may help to write to Anne Hirst. Address her at Box 1, 123 Eighth St., New Toronto, Ont.

See The Water's Really Boiling

Ask a housewife if she knows how to make a good cup of Tea and she'll laugh and say, "But you're joking, of course." Ask a restaurateur if he serves a good cup of Tea. Without doubt he will answer in the affirmative. Yet, surprisingly enough, in many restaurants and in some homes, a pale watery liquid masquerades under the name of Tea, although a good cup of Tea is a very refreshing and enjoyable beverage.

Using water that has not come to a bubbly boil and being too impatient to let it brew for 5 minutes are the two biggest faults which result in a poor cup of Tea. Tea is an aristocrat — it refuses to be rushed — but give it proper yet simple attention and it will give you its best.

Not so very long ago a Tea taster in the United States disparagingly referred to the inability of many American women to boil water! Whilst his remarks were ridiculed, there is some justification for his scathing comment! Did you know for example that boiling water has to reach a temperature of 212 degrees and that the perfect cup of Tea is made only when fresh water has been brought to a furious bubbly boil? If the teapot isn't heated first, even boiling water will drop as many as 20 degrees after it has been poured into the teapot. You do not get the full flavour and aroma from Tea's delicate oils and minerals unless it has been brewed for a full 5 minutes.

There's no problem in making a really good cup of Tea. Here are the simple, basic steps which, if followed, will result in outstanding flavour and a cup of Tea you will be proud of.

1. Use a warmed crockery teapot.
2. Put in 1 teaspoon for each person and 1 for the pot.
3. Add fresh, bubbly, boiling water.
4. Allow to brew for 5 minutes.

* Tea Bags — one tea bag for each two cups.

CHRONICLES OF GINGER FARM

by Gwendoline P. Clarke

Well now, I suppose I must tear myself away from the book I am reading long enough to get this column done — and then I shall return to my book without delay. What book? It is called "Doctor to the Islands" by Tom and Lydia Davis. The "islands" being the Cook Islands in the South Seas. It is a true narrative giving the experience of Dr. Davis and his wife during a seven-year stay at Rarotonga, the largest one in the Cook group of islands, where Dr. Davis was appointed as Medical Officer of Health. It gives striking examples of what happens when man-made intervention upsets the balance of nature. For instance there were many large mango and chestnut trees on the island which were always left standing even though younger trees were cut down. Then in 1935 along came a Government agricultural "expert." He had previously worked in South Africa and was under the impression that the same agricultural principles should apply to both countries. So he ordered the huge old trees to be cut down on the ground that their great spreading roots were draining nourishment from the soil. The natives did as they were told although they knew that the tree roots shook and moved in the tropical storms, loosening the soil better than a plough could have done, while shade from the trees gave shelter to the "low crops." The trees were destroyed and as a result the crops were alternately bleached by the sun and washed out by the rain. Then came the order to prune the orange trees. That, too, was a grave mistake as, according to Dr. Davis, in this region of tropical hurricanes, nature does her own pruning and the trees survive, whereas the trees that were pruned with clippers died within a few weeks.

The story of the island is, of course, fascinating from a medical standpoint as one follows the hard but successful struggles of the young doctor against ignorance, lack of sanitation and witchcraft.

So, if you really want a fascinating and informative book to read just try "Doctor to the Islands" — written in a style that is humorous and easy to read.

Another book, that should be particularly interesting to people from England is "Royal Chef," being the experience of the Royal Chef at Buckingham Palace from the latter part of Queen Victoria's reign to that of George V and later as chef for the late Queen Mary after she became Queen Mother.

Well, for the first time this winter the fields are covered with snow. Just a light fall around here — but I imagine there is considerably more up beyond the hills. My, what a time we had last week getting around on the ice. Partner isn't too good at keeping his balance and I am even worse so we make a good pair. However, Partner has a pair of "creepers" that he keeps for just such an emergency. Without them there are times when he would hardly be able to get up the hill from the barn, even with the help of ashes. Many times we have thought we would like an oil-burning furnace instead of coal, but as Partner says — "What would he do without ashes in slippery weather?" Not only for ourselves but for the cows and cars too. Every day Partner goes out with his ash-pail before the truck comes in for the milk. After breakfast he starts out again, spreading ashes for the cows from the barn to the trough, and from the driving shed to where I must walk to back the car out of the shed. He also uses quite a bit of salt. And then, after all his trouble the cows come out to drink and what do they do? Start fighting, no less! Just as I was going for the mail the other day, there were two of the stupid things, heads together, pushing each other around on the ice, slipping and sliding all over the place. Then a few of the others came along and joined in the fray. It reminded me of the scrap at Maple Leaf Gardens on Christmas night! I was sure there would be a few broken legs between them so I did my best to stop the rough-house but not before two of them went down on their knees. However, they managed to survive without injury. As for me I had my own troubles in trying to keep right-side-up. I put on shoes and rubbers and then pulled heavy woollen socks over the

Painting Pointers

A paint roller must be cleaned carefully after use if it is to do a satisfactory job the next time. But cleaning can be a messy business. Here's a tidy and effective method. After using oil paint, squeeze the excess paint out of the roller by rolling it in the empty pan. Then put it in an empty polythene bag — the kind the groceries come in, but make sure it is one without holes. Then you can squeeze the roller by hand, working out the remaining paint. Rinse the roller in a pan of turpentine, mineral spirits or other thinner, repeating until clean. After painting with latex-base paints, clean the roller in lukewarm water.

The best way to mix paint is to use two cans. Pour off the top liquid from the new can of paint and stir the sticky solids in the bottom of the can. Then pour the two back and forth from one can to the other several times. Keep an extra paint pail in the house for this purpose.

Be careful when painting anything which has had wax on it. Paint will not adhere to wax and in no time it will peel and chip. Scrub the surface first with soap and water, then give it a good rubbing with turpentine to remove every trace of wax. If any gloss still remains, rub it lightly with fine sandpaper. Be sure the surface is thoroughly dry before you paint.

whole works. What added charm to my attractive footwear was the fact that one sock was bright blue with red tops and the other light grey — they were the only ones in my mending basket that didn't need darning. Fortunately no one came along the road when I was getting the mail from the box!

Apart from the ice I had a wonderful time last week. Spent nearly a whole day gathering up old Christmas cards in answer to the appeal for such cards to be left at Honeydew Restaurants in Toronto. (The time limit is past now.) Then I went to work on a whole lot of papers and magazines for the Boy Scouts. After awhile we shall be able to move around at Ginger Farm!

St. Andrew's Ladies' Aid

The January meeting of St. Andrew's Ladies' Aid was held on Thursday, January 27th at the home of Mrs. Percy Craighead. Due to the stormy weather, the members from the country were not able to be present. Mrs. A. Greenley acted as president for the meeting. Mrs. C. Rollins and Mrs. Craighead assisted with the lunch. The meeting opened with the singing of the hymn, "Work for the Night is Coming". Mrs. Harper Rollins read the Scripture from that chapter of Romans that outlines the way of life we should each try to follow as we start the New Year — Romans XII. All members joined in repeating the Lord's Prayer.

The minutes were read by the Secretary, Mrs. Hermiston, reviewing the work of the past year.

Miss Gena Spry gave an encouraging financial report. Although the Society worked without a president, the group convenors took charge of several events, raising funds to redecorate the church during the past year.

Plans were made to hold an Irish Stew Congregational Supper on February 23rd. During the day quilts will be at work. All the ladies are to plan to be present during the day, the menfolk and children coming for supper. On March 9th there will be a St. Patrick's Tea and Bake Sale.

The meeting closed with the Mizpah Benediction. Lunch was served and a social time enjoyed. Mrs. Hermiston moved a vote of thanks to the ladies, and she also thanked the convenors, Mrs. A. Greenley and Mrs. C. Rollins.

The financial statement was given by Wardens, Mr. Stanley Kitchener, Rector's Warden and Mr. E. Heath, People's Warden, with a bank balance $168.75. Mrs. Jennie Wellman reported for the W.A. with a balance on hand of $361.21. Mrs. Neal gave the Sunday School report.

Incipient Alcoholism

Incipient alcoholism can be recognized and forestalled long before a drinker reaches the "problem" stage, according to the Alcoholism Committee of the Health League of Canada. However, the committee points out, the only way alcoholism can be tackled from a preventive point of view is through intensive campaigns of public education such as are carried on by the League.

The message of the Alcoholism Committee is presented in the current Health Conservation page, a regular feature in Health magazine. Not only alcoholics, but incipient alcoholics as well as non-drinkers who might find themselves in a position where they can be helpful, need to be educated in the facts of alcoholism before Canada can make any marked headway in the prevention of this disease. Well-meaning but ill-informed efforts to help often can do more harm than good, the committee points out.

A large number of alcoholics do not seek treatment until after they have reached the "gutter" stage, and by this time they have not only the problem of breaking from alcohol but the almost impossible job of picking up the broken pieces of their lives. An alcoholic who has reached this stage is likely to have lost his family, his friends, his job and his money.

However it is unnecessary for a drinker to reach the "gutter stage" to convince himself that he is one of those who cannot drink. There are a number of clear warning signals in the early stages of alcoholism, when a drinker is still a responsible job holder, family man and social individual, which indicate that any further continuation of drinking can only lead, more or less rapidly, to the "gutter stage" of chronic alcoholism. These signals include frequent "blackouts" without marked intoxication, a tendency to gulp the first two drinks, a dislike for social affairs where alcoholic beverages are not served, a tendency to sneak extra drinks at parties where the liquor is flowing too slowly or to fortify oneself with two or three stiff shots before going to such a party. These signs, when they all appear together with enough frequency to make up a regular pattern, indicate the need for a break with alcohol. This break is not difficult at this stage, but it becomes increasingly more difficult in the following stages.

The Alcoholism Committee of the Health League points out that it is in need of voluntary contributions in order to finance its educational service to the people of Canada. With sufficient funds, the committee estimates, it can turn the tide of alcoholism in Canada, which is at present increasing in prevalence from year to year.

SCUTTLEBUT AND PERCIVAL

These bright stars of the CBC-TV version of the popular "Howdy Doody Show" help keep the program moving at a lively pace. Old Scuttlebut, a somewhat boisterous pirate with a generous heart, can tell tall tales but has also picked up some astounding true stories in his travels. Percival Parrot is always interested in them, but his chief job is to interpret what another character, Clarabell, the clown, is saying. "The Howdy Doody Show" may be heard five times a week on Canadian television.

THE Calvert SPORTS COLUMN

by Elmer Ferguson

• André Bissette is a hockey goalie, though perhaps not a very good one. Also, he is just a little boy; a very little boy indeed, compared to the giants of major hockey. He weighs only 133 pounds. Yet little André Bissette has written into the saga of hockey when he was called on in a sudden emergency by a National Hockey League team.

The night of November 11 Canadiens were drilling in the usual fashion before playing Chicago Black Hawks. Jacques Plante, the hawk-faced goalie was in the nets, casually batting away the shots his mates were tossing his way. The shots were easy for the swift-moving Plante to handle. Easy, that is, until one streaking drive took a sudden sharp curve and the frozen puck, travelling at bullet speed, crashed into his face. He fell head-foremost onto the ice. His cheek-bone was shattered by the impact.

Canadiens had two spare goalies. One was out of the city, with Royals' team. The other was down at Providence. So, suddenly, the League leaders found themselves with no goalie at all. Then someone recalled that little André Bissette, spare net-minder for a junior team, was in the house. Quickly, he was found. He was asked to play: "No, no," he protested at first, bewildered by it all. "It would not be fair to Canadiens. I am so small."

But in the end, he consented to fill the gap as best he could. He was hurried to the dressing-room, equipped with the big pads left behind by the 175-pound Plante, pads which hung almost ludicrously from the little fellow's skimpy frame. He shambled out on the ice, shaking with nervous tension, weighted down by the over-size gear — his own was in a sports shop, being cut down.

But his moment of glory has come and he rose to meet it. Hawks pelted him with shots. One got by because his leg pads struck his chest when he bent over and he couldn't reach down to stop the puck, sliding along the ice. Four shots beat him in all. Canadiens' imagination caught fire. "We can't let the kid down" was their battle-cry, and they fired seven goals, equalling their highest total of the year, past Rollins in the Chicago twins.

So for little André Bissette, as he lurched wearily down the ice, a dream had suddenly come true. He had his night of glory. Probably he will never play in the National League again. But he had his game, and won it, and his name will be inscribed in the all-time records as one of those hockey rarities — a goalie who batted 1,000 percent.

Man Builds Home Beehive-shaped

A man who has kept bees in New Plymouth, New Zealand, for 34 years has finally built a "beehive" for himself.

From his long experience as beekeeper, George Brewster has discovered that bees knew what they were doing when they chose the hexagon as a basis for hive construction.

And since it was good enough for the bees, it was good enough for Mr. Brewster, "something superior," he said, "to man-made right angles." So he built a house of no right angles, using the hexagon as the basis of measurements and design.

Hence, Mr. Brewster has come up with something unique in the history of prefabricated construction. The benefits are manifold, he said. For the hexagon, he added, provides greater floor space for relative wall space, greater storage capacity, and far greater strength for the construction unit.

It also has the advantage of unlimited variations of design and size from an extremely small number of basic shapes and pieces.

Mr. Brewster has reduced the materials used to 18 standard parts which can be factory-cut and mass produced.

Many of the parts make use of smaller waste pieces of timber that ordinarily drift from the orthodox construction job into the scrap heap. All the wall units have a laminated frame, lined on the inside with hexagonal sections, each built around three diamond shapes and finished on the outside with a sheathing of rough-cast plaster.

Mr. Brewster's own house consists of seven equal-sized rooms or units, all opening from a central hall and joined by quaintly shaped archways which can be curtained or fitted with sliding doors.

The only discordant note to Mr. Brewster is the rectangular bath, but the plumber just could not bring himself to follow the suggestion to "knock the corners off."

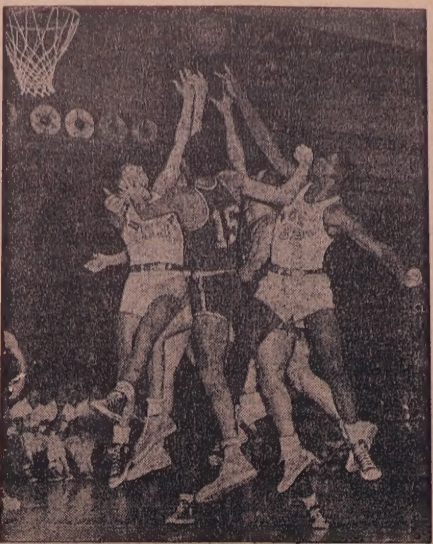

Mrs. Brewster, who shares her husband's enthusiasm for this "beehive" style of living, finds their home a joy to keep in order.

EMPTY POCKETS—The solution to the problem of how to keep that well-pressed look is in the brief case. John Barbieri, tailor, says that a brief case tailored to match the suit could well take the load usually carried in the average businessman's 10-16 (count 'em) pockets.

"UNDER" NOURISHED—Nourished under water, that is, Pauline Ady and Barry Blair, framed by a part of their diving tank at an exhibition in London, England, demonstrate that you can have a snack while enjoying the growing sport of skin-diving. Bananas are a made-to-order food for underwater lunch; liquids may be carried in plastic, compressible containers and squirted into the mouth. Spectator is Carol Parr.

Stars and Planets

Stars and planets look very much alike, although they are actually entirely different kinds of bodies. Stars are huge balls of extremely hot and glowing gas, like our own sun. Planets are much smaller than most stars and are more or less like the earth, for they have no light or heat of their own. The planets shine brilliantly in the sky simply because they reflect the light of the sun, somewhat as a mirror might. While there are countless trillions of stars, we know definitely of only nine planets, and all of these belong to the sun's family.

On a clear night the sky is full of stars. Since the planets are constantly moving around the sun, some of these bodies may be in the night-time sky where we can see them among the stars, and some of them may be in the daytime sky where we can not see them because of the sunlight. At times when some of the planets are shining among the stars, it may be difficult to know which are planets and which are stars.

We have already seen that stars twinkle because their light is bent in various ways by the differently heated layers of atmosphere. Planets do not twinkle, ordinarily, but seem to shine with a steady, unwavering light. Even through large telescopes, the biggest stars appear simply as tiny points of light, while the planets show very definite discs and surfaces. Hence, more rays come to us from the surface of a planet than from the surface of a star. The light from the planets does not waver as much as that from the stars because the wavering of one ray of light is counteracted by the wavering of another ray in another direction.

Planets can also be picked out by noticing that over a period of time they change their positions against the background of the stars. The word planet means wanderer. Through the year, the planets can be seen traveling against the starry sky. The stars, on the other hand, seem to remain fixed in relation to each other.

.. PLAIN HORSE SENSE ..

By F. (BOB) VON PILIS

A strong plea for a clear-cut agricultural policy was made a few days ago in the House of Commons by F. S. Zaplitzny (member for Dauphin, Man.).

Mr. Zaplitzny said that he wanted to repeat the statement that had been made so often by members of all parties "that agriculture is entitled to its fair share of the national income. He said that he was not going to ask for "hand-outs" or "preferred treatment," but wanted to outline "a policy which will, as near as it is possible to do so, bring to agriculture its fair share of the national income."

Supports Forward Prices

He quoted a resolution carried at a recent convention of the Manitoba Farmers Union which calls for the establishment by the federal government of "a policy of forward pricing on all agricultural commodities, which would bear a 95-per cent parity relationship to other goods and services, thus bringing about stability in agriculture and strengthen our whole economy."

The honourable member for Dauphin came out strongly in support of this resolution from which he evolved a number of necessary measures, the first and foremost of which is a system of marketing boards.

He asked for assistance to these provinces which are now trying to organize livestock marketing boards with the ultimate aim of setting up a national livestock marketing board.

More important still was the establishment of floor prices for livestock products, which Mr. Zaplitzny submitted was a matter beyond the financial possibilities of any one province and a responsibility of the federal government.

Two Price System

Mr. Zaplitzny went on to discuss what is called, in the opinion of this writer erroneously so, a two price system; in other words one set price for the home market and lower competitive prices for export. He explained that this was regular practice as far as industry is concerned.

This column has always pronounced the idea of setting commodity prices for home consumption and to export any "surpluses" at world prices. The question to be answered is whether this should be done by the government or by the farmers themselves through their own marketing agencies.

Price Spreads Investigation

The honourable member also urged the government to investigate the spreads of prices between producer and consumer. He produced figures which show that wheat for which the farmer received 96 cents at 1.25 costs $7.28 when retailed in the form of bread. Oats for which the farmer received 20 to 52 cents per bushel bring $3.62 a bushel when turned into rolled oats for human consumption. Barley for which the farmers are paid 50 to 92 cents a bushel, is worth $4.32 in the form of dry malt, and if turned into liquid malt as much as $9.

For the People of Canada

Mr. Zaplitzny ended his speech with an appeal to national pride, genuine love of the Canadian soil, the appreciation of the possibilities in our country and the knowledge of the greater things that can be done for the benefit of the people of Canada.

It would be useful for farmers to study this speech and to discuss the proposed policies at their meetings.

This column welcomes criticism, constructive or destructive, and suggestions, wise or otherwise; it will endeavour to answer any questions. Address mail to Bob Von Pilis, Whitby, Ont.

Good Time To Check Junior's Feet

With snow on the ground and frost in the air, Grandpa used to grumble when he was a boy about that four-mile hike to the little red schoolhouse.

But his complaints were a mere whisper compared to the howl put up by today's youngsters if they have to walk more than a half-dozen blocks to school.

According to foot doctors, however, there may be some merit to Junior's complaints. The doctors say that Junior's feet are probably worse off than Grandpa's ever were. Why? Well, Grandpa's parents knew more about foot care than we do — his generation did a great deal more walking and thus were more conscious of shoes and foot comfort.

Today's youngsters do a lot of their daily travel in cars and buses, and parents are apt to neglect their feet — which is why school health examinations turn up the fact that far too many children are wearing unsuitable and outgrown shoes. The pair you bought Junior in the Fall may still have a lot of wear in them, but chances are they're cramping his feet as he steps out in 1955 — and that can be the beginning of foot troubles that can plague him all his life.

With four months of school and rough play behind them, midwinter is a good time to check your children's shoes if you want them to walk into the new school term on healthy feet.

And be sure to take a little extra time and care when you buy Junior new shoes, specially as far as fit and materials are concerned. Make certain that the soles are made of flexible leather that bends easily with the foot.

But no matter how much your youngster likes a particular style, don't let him leave the store in badly fitting shoes. Have his feet measured standing up — they'll spread naturally with his weight on them. The proper length allows three-quarters of an inch between his big toe and the tip of the shoe. You can be certain the width is correct if the upper leather across the toes can be humped up slightly between your fingers. The heel fit should be snug, with no up-and-down slipping as he walks.

See that Junior tries on both shoes and walks around the store in them to check for comfort. Sometimes one foot is slightly larger than the other, and he should be fitted for the larger one.

If your wife is quick on the draw, be wary of a joint bank account.

It was decided to hold a St. Patrick's Supper in March, serving the favourite Irish Stew. Final plans were made for the W.A. Church service to be held on the night of Sunday, February 27th. Mrs. C. Lansing will be the speaker.

Miss D. Caldwell read the Scripture after which the meeting closed with the Mizpah Benediction. A dainty lunch was served by the committee in charge.

Mrs. George V. McCutcheon Is Widely Mourned

A highly esteemed resident of this village, Mrs. George V. McCutcheon, was found dead at her home, Mill St., on Wednesday of last week. It is thought that she suffered a heart attack on Monday night.

Born in Sidney Township, she was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Cosby, and was in her 35th year. She lived in Sidney Township prior to coming to Stirling 28 years ago. In religion she was a member of St. Paul's United Church and also a member of the Woman's Association and the Woman's Missionary Society. She was predeceased by her husband in 1933.

She is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Melville (Jean) Gibson, R.R. 2, Campbellford; a son, Arnold McCutcheon, of New Toronto, and five grand children.

Also surviving her is a sister, Mrs. Edith Williams, of Jackson, Mich., and a half sister, Mrs. Wilson Sealey, of Ivanhoe.

The funeral was held at the Duffin Funeral Home, Stirling, on Friday, February 4th at 2.30 p.m., and was largely attended. Rev. A. Packman of St. Paul's United Church conducted the service.

Entombment was in Stirling Cemetery vault.

St. Paul's Church Visits Carmel

A good number of St. Paul's United Church members and friends visited Carmel Church on Sunday evening and helped till the Church for the service.

Dr. Ralph Vandervoort conducted the service and while modestly explaining that he had not acted in such a capacity before, nevertheless left nothing to be desired in its conduct. The Lessons were read by Mr. Francis Jeffrey and Mr. Jack Bush and Mr. George Carlisle, Clerk of the Session of St. Paul's, extended greetings to Carmel Church. St. Paul's Choir sang the anthem, "Abide With Me," and Mr. Grant Richardson sang a solo.

The Minister, Rev. Arthur Packman, preached on "When They Saw The Ark, They Rejoiced." Telling the story of the capture of the Ark by the Philistines, Dr. Packman explained that it was equivalent to the capture of the regimental flag. However, no sooner had the Philistines captured it than they wanted to get rid of it. Thus it is with religion that which becomes a source of joy to one man becomes a source of irritation and embarrassment to another.

At the social hour which followed several solos were sung by Mrs. Wm. Wilkins, Mr. Ted Reynolds and Mrs. Bruce Glendinning.

On behalf of the trustees of St. Paul's who were responsible for the evening, Mr. Harold Wells thanked

ANNE HIRST

Your Family Counselor

"Dear Anne Hirst: Ever since my brother married his wife six years ago, she has behaved abominably. Since the first year, she has had affairs with other men, they come to the house during the day, and she has even met them in town. She thinks she is fooling everyone.

"We have been careful to treat her as though we knew nothing of all this, but we are getting fed up. I am sure Dad knows something, and we are really terrified that Mother, who is not well, will find out. It is no use talking to my brother. He believes everything she says, and we all know she lies consistently.

"All our friends are nice to her, but I expect it is because they respect our family. We were all raised to despise divorce, and to lead upright lives. We don't drink at all; she and my brother do, and they leave the children with anybody at any time; we are so afraid they will be taunted later on with their mother's misconduct! She has even told my sister that my brother likes other women; maybe he is no better than she is, I don't know.

"My sister and I wonder whether trying to talk to her, or to him, would help? We just don't know what to do, but we are worried sick.

DESPERATE

Under the shadow of scandal and grief, you and your family have behaved admirably and with fine discretion. Even when your sister-in-law tried to cause trouble among you, you held your peace. I hope you will continue to do so. It is your brother's affair, and anyone who tells him about his wife (or attempts to talk to her) will get little thanks. Perhaps your brother knows the truth and appears to condone it for the children's sake. If he should learn it first from you, it becomes a family scandal instead of his personal responsibility. He is mature, and a father. Let him handle it in his own way. You and your family take your cue from him, and be silent.

Continue to treat his wife as though you knew nothing. For his sake visit her, entertain them all when they will come, and be especially kind to the children. Whatever your brother knows or does not know, or whatever happens, that will comfort him.

"Dear Anne Hirst: I am 14, and haven't been out with a boy yet. About seven months ago I met this boy, and we are madly in love with each other. He has asked me to go out with him, but my parents just won't allow it.

"I would love to go, of course, but I wouldn't like to hurt my parents. Can you tell me what to do?"

WORRIED

Letters come to me from coast to coast about this problem. In most parts of the country girls of your age are permitted to entertain boys at home, or double-date them. Parents recognize that a girl needs a proper social life for her normal development and pleasure, and if she has proven to be responsible in other ways they welcome boys to the house and try to make her home a meeting-place for all her friends.

Obviously, you and this boy could not be madly in love unless you had been seeing each other often. A girl who meets a lad away from her home is not only deceiving her family but heading for more trouble than she can guess. Is that being responsible? In other ways, too, perhaps you have been so careless about keeping your word that your parents realize you are not to be trusted.

I may be all wrong, but I do urge you not to cheapen yourself by clandestine meetings, or in any other way. You cannot openly date a boy against your parents' wishes and be playing fair—and no matter what he tells you, he cannot respect you for it. It is a frail and dangerous basis for any healthy friendship. Think this over. Obey your parents, but try to win their consent to entertaining your friends at home, and include this boy. If he is worth knowing, they may relax their rule, and help you enjoy a wider social life.

If trouble comes to your family, stand by, and silently, without criticism of those involved. Loyalty and discretion make anything easier to bear. In time of indecision, ask Anne Hirst's opinion. Address her at Box 1, 123 Eighteenth St., New Toronto.

Fashion Blossoms Out in Lace—

Collar and cuffs of wool coat for spring, left, are adorned with Alençon lace. First made in Alençon, France, in the 17th Century, Alençon is delicate, yet durable. Hooded English import of white cotton lace over black worsted, right, makes rainy day walking something to look forward to. Water-repellent rain boots are of the same design.

Well, we have been "converted"—as of last Friday, and it was certainly quite an experience. Maybe those of you who still have conversion to 60 cycle ahead of you would like to know what happened.

Shortly before 8 a.m., hydro trucks started rolling along the highway—I had already counted 28 before one of them turned in at our gate. The driver came in, checked the equipment to be changed over and went away again. A little later he came back and got to work, first on the water-pressure system, then the washing machine and finally the milk and cream separator. When he came to the milk cooler he found he had been given the wrong motor so he had to send to Toronto for the right one. About 3 o'clock another fellow came in to change the refrigerator. To give him more working space I had taken out everything that was movable in my pantry—or kitchenette if you prefer to call it that. The man went to work, took out all the mysterious works that make a refrigerator refrig, brought in all the new parts and then, after working for awhile, he shut up his tool box, announced, he had to get another part and would be back after awhile. That was the last we saw of him, and he had left the dismantled refrigerator and equipment still in the middle of the floor. I should say that by this time we were on 60 cycle. At 9:30 the power was shut off three-quarters of an hour. When it came on again it was 60 cycle. During the afternoon the man came back, except for the 'frig' we were all through.

At 5:30 the fun began! The lights suddenly went dim. Not out but so dim one could hardly see to walk around. Partner came up from the barn. "How do you like 60 cycle?" I asked. His answer is better left unrecorded.

From what I could gather afterwards the hydro office was besieged with calls, ours among them. "Something had gone wrong with the temporary transformer, causing low voltage. It would be adjusted as soon as possible." But, while we had low voltage people to the east of us had too much—lights were blindingly bright, furnaces racing like mad and fuses blowing out all over the place. However, about nine o'clock the trouble was adjusted, lights were normal and Partner was able to finish his milking with the aid of the milking machine. But still the refrigerator man had not returned. I wasn't too worried, thinking he would be back in the morning. After all one might expect a little inconvenience. But then a neighbor informed me the men didn't work on Saturday. I should have known it! I phoned the hydro office and a weary voice answered—"Let me know in the morning if he doesn't come and we will send an emergency man out to finish the job." I was satisfied to let it go at that, meanwhile stepping around the refrigerator and its cumbersome parts as best I could, trying to get a little law and order into the place.

Altogether it had been a trying day so by 11 o'clock I was dead to the world. Partner, apparently, was half undressed when there came a pounding at the door, and furious barking on the part of the dogs. I awoke with a start, wondering what on earth had happened. It was another hydro man... to finish the refrigerator job! Partner was in the middle of telling him he would have to come back in the morning when, with a hastily donned housecoat, I came out and suggested that since he was already here he might as well stay. After that I persuaded Partner to go to bed and I stayed up. It was nearly one o'clock before the job was done, helped along by a cup of hot coffee.

So—that was our experience with the actual conversion job. And the results? Well, the lights are brighter; there is a difference in the refrigerator and it cools less quickly—which is all to the good. All the various motors run much faster which seems to be an improvement insofar as the milking machine is concerned. One thing Partner doesn't like is the fact that the motors do not fit as well as the old ones. There is a shaft sticking out from the motor on the milking machine which gets in his way. New holes had to be bored to accommodate the motor on the cream separator, which we don't think is going to be too satisfactory. One rather funny thing happened. I forgot to disconnect the kitchen clock. When 60 cycle came on the clock started up as usual but gained 30 minutes every hour! On the whole we are very well satisfied—just so long as our bill doesn't jump 50 percent. One thing I would like to add: all the men who have come in have been as courteous and obliging as one could wish. Certainly we have no complaints on that score. It was not the mechanic's fault he had been sent out with the wrong motor.

Eager to see a big business executive, a salesman finally got past a series of secretaries.

"A salesman, eh?" snorted the big exec. "Do you know that my secretaries have thrown out fifteen salesmen all ready today?"

"Yes, sir," replied the salesman. "I'm them."

Confessed Killing

In 1927, Aparicio Vilela, then a minor, received an eight years and two months' sentence for the murder of his uncle, in Campo Belo, Brazil.

Four years later, having served half of his sentence, Aparicio was pardoned. To-day the convict is a real estate broker in his home town.

Now twenty seven years after his trial, the real criminal, José Posidonio, stricken by remorse, has confessed on his deathbed to a priest that he was the murderer. The priest would not grant absolution before he had confessed his crime to a judge. The judge of Campo Belo was called to the bedside of the dying man. He revealed the whole truth in the presence of several witnesses.

Sun Life Pays $26 Million In Policyholder Dividends

Cost of insurance reduced. Nearly $700 million of new business sold last year, largest amount of any Canadian company

For the sixth consecutive year, the Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada is adopting new dividend scales which will substantially reduce the cost of insurance to the holders of its participating policies, according to an announcement by George W. Bourke, President, in his Annual Review of the Company's business for 1954. With this latest increase of policyholder dividends, the Company will pay out in the year ahead a total of approximately $26 million — an increase of more than $2 million over the previous year. New life insurance sold last year amounted to nearly $700 million, an increase of $120 million over 1953 and again the largest figure reported by any Canadian life company. Included in this new business figure is $239 million of group insurance, representing an increase of $68 million over the previous year. Benefits paid by Sun Life during the year amounted to $134 million, and total benefits paid by the Company since its organization in 1865 now stand at $2,866 million.

$6 BILLION IN FORCE

Other highlights of the Report include a total of life insurance in force amounting to more than $6,000,000,000. During 1948 the Company passed the $4 billion mark and, during 1952, topped $5 billion. The Company has now passed another milestone and the two-year period taken to accumulate the last billion dollars contrasts sharply with the 54 years required for the first billion. Group insurance included in the 1954 figure amounts to $1,996 million, an increase during the year of 13.9%. The proportion of insurance and annuities in force in the various countries where the Company operates is now as follows: Canada, 47%; United States, 36%; Great Britain and other Commonwealth countries, 14%; elsewhere throughout the world, 3%.

MORTGAGE LOANS UP

Assets of the Company now stand at $1,876 million, an increase of $46 million over 1953. Mortgage loans increased by more than any other type of investment, in keeping with Sun Life's policy of striving to further economic and social interests of the community consistent with sound investment principles. During the year, new mortgage loans made by the Company totalled $33,000,000. Mortgage investments now total $323 million, mostly in individual homes.

In commenting on the general economic situation, Mr. Bourke remarked that a year ago there was uncertainty in some quarters regarding the outlook for 1954. Despite the keen competition that existed among the various companies, however, 1954 was a year of expansion for life insurance and particularly for Sun Life. Mr. Bourke declared that the main reason the life insurance industry continued to forge ahead, was because a life insurance policy functions like a good investment. It increases in value, it provides a return on the investment and it has a market value which can be used to provide cash for emergencies and a retirement fund for old age. Moreover it does what no other investment can do — it creates an immediate estate for the protection of home and family.

Mr. Bourke stressed the recent improvements in medical science with the ensuing rapid and continuous decline in death rates. He pointed out that accidents now account for a substantial proportion of death from all causes, especially in the younger age groups, and that Sun Life experience shows that approximately one-half of all death claims under age thirty are the results of accidents, while accidents are now the third most frequent cause of death at all ages, following heart disease and cancer. In particular, he mentioned automobile accidents which account for about one-half of all accidental deaths. The hazard from this source will become greater unless accompanied by a steady improvement in the safety habits of the motoring public. Death claim records are full of tragic accidents which elementary safety precautions could have avoided.

OUTLOOK FOR 1955

In his concluding remarks, Mr. Bourke said that Canada's national resources should continue to support thriving industries which may well set new standards of prosperity in 1955. There should be no abatement of the national confidence, for a steady progress beneficial to everyone is to be expected. "Canada's future depends not only on its economic heritage, but on the use to which that heritage is put," he concluded. "The tasks ahead may be different. We may have to adjust to new patterns and new demands, but I am confident we will meet the challenge."

A copy of Sun Life's complete 1954 Annual Report to Policyholders, including the President's review of the year, is being sent to each policyholder, or may be obtained from C. E. Richardson, Local Representative.

With tears we watched you sinking,
We watched you pass away.
We tended you with loving care
But could not make you stay.

We watched beside your bedside,
As the lonely hours passed,
And how our hearts were broken
When we saw you breathe your last.
You have left a beautiful memory,
And a sorrow too great to be told;
But to us who have loved and lost you
Your memory will never grow old.

God forgive a silent tear,
Always wishing you were here.

Nor has he travelled far;
Just entered God's eternal home,

CARD OF THANKS

To my friends and neighbours I say a hearty "thank you." Words fail to express my appreciation of the many kindnesses I have received during my stay in the hospital in Toronto and since my return home. Again I say
"thank you." 9-1p

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our deepest appreciation to all the neighbours and friends for their floral tributes, many acts of kindness and expressions of sympathy during our recent bereavement; also a special "thank you" to of George H. Rose, in her 75th year.

The funeral was held Tuesday, February 8th, from the Belleville Burial
Company Funeral Home at 1.30 p.m.
Entombment Stirling Cemetery.

son.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hammond and family, of Cobourg, were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hammond.

Mr. and Mrs. Mac Sables were Sunday evening guests of Mr. and Mrs.
Orrie Seeley, Stirling.

A large number from here attended the funeral services for Mrs. George Rose, Belleville, on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wood, Ivanhoe, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs.
George Ashley.

Mr. and Mrs. Goldie McInroy spent Sunday with Mr. Harry Campion, of Marmora.

Play Being
Well Received

The play entitled, "The Meddlesome Maid," which is being presented by talent from West Huntingdon under the sponsorship of the Sew and Chatter Club, is being well received. It was first presented in the Town Hall, Ivanhoe, and in spite of the sub-zero weather, the hall was filled with everyone enjoying the efforts of the players.

The cast is comprised as follows:
Charles Winthrop, Charles Wright;
Margaret Winthrop, Mrs. W. Grant;
Dolly Darling, Mrs. George Ashley;
Robert White, Melbourne Moorcroft;
Edna the Maid, Mrs. Russell Sills;
Sam Bryant, Alex McCurdy; Carlyle
Howard, Mac Sables; Mrs. Fraser,
Mrs. Mac Sables; Mrs. Rita Griffin,
Mrs. Elmer Wilson; Richard O'Neil,
Bill Grant.

The play is directed by Mrs. Lindsay Sills and Mrs. Alex McCurdy, assisted by Mrs. John Lainsdon and Mrs.
Mac Sables. Mr. Philip Carr was chairman for the evening.

The entire action of the play takes place in the living room of the Winthrop home in a summer resort town.
The humour, mystery, suspicion and misunderstanding spiced with a little romance here and there makes this play a most enjoyable evening's entertainment. Mr. Gerald Taylor and Mr.
William Grant entertained between the acts. Already a number of places have booked the play for future engagements.

Considering the number of drivers of both sexes, male drivers in Ontario account for a higher proportion of motor accidents than do females, according to the Accident Records
Branch of the Ontario Department of Highways.

NOTICE

Due to my loss by fire, I would appreciate the settlement of all accounts by the 15th of February.

Boy Scouts Plan World Jamboree

When Lord Baden Powell, the founder of the Boy Scout Movement, was asked to name an international gathering of Boy Scouts, he said, "Call it a Jamboree". He was asked to explain the meaning of the word, since it did not appear in the dictionary. His explanation was that there would be a large gathering of boys from all over the world. "What else could you call it but a 'Jam' of boys". And that is exactly what is going to happen at Niagara-on-the-Lake this August 18 to 28, an immense gathering of followers of our beloved Chief from round the globe. Yes, truly we will be in a tremendous "Jam" of humanity.

Already we have word that boys are coming from 25 countries, representing every continent on earth. These young men will bring with them the traditions and customs of all the world. They will camp in the same style tents, eating the same style meals, and be a little bit of their home land on the historic countryside in Canada. Here in rope encircled camp-site will rise the voices of the boys of the world, singing the songs of their homeland, and playing the sport of mankind. Truly, as someone has said, "this is the United Nations of Youth".

Visualize this campsite. There will be ten camps of 1000 or more boys. Each camp will have about 400 Canadian boys and 600 overseas friends.

The Bourkes all work at the Bell!

Away back in 1922, a young man by the name of Arthur Bourke joined our company. Little did he realize that his children—all six of them—would follow in his footsteps to careers at the Bell. Today Mr. Bourke would be more than proud of his handsome family. We know we are!

The Bourkes, like all telephone people, know from their own experience that the Bell is "a good place to work". They have found pleasant associates and interesting work at good wages. They have also found satisfaction and opportunity in serving the public in an essential business.

And this is as it should be, for good telephone service depends upon people who like their jobs, and convey this feeling to our customers. This is the feeling that is largely responsible for "the spirit of service" you find in Bell employees wherever you meet them.

THE BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY OF CANADA

Every evening there will be a grand-stand performance put on by the young people to an audience of 15,000. They will also eat, play, and talk together. Yes, I imagine, there will be times of quiet and times of raucous boy noise. What touches my heart is that no one can measure the extent of impression there will be in those times of quiet talk which take place at the evening campfires or around the dinner tables. What possibilities there will be to write the future! What a Campsite!

The camp fee amounts to $30.00 and other expenses including pocket money are estimated at $20.00. In other words, $50.00 will enable a Scout to attend this great world gathering, who might otherwise be barred by his inability to obtain Canadian dollars.

Boy Scout Groups, Service Clubs, other organizations or individuals are invited, indeed are urged, to make it possible for a Scout to come from the Sterling Area.

Mother, how would you like to have the catering for this gathering? Imagine the appetites to be satisfied. Imagine the variety of meals to be prepared. We won't worry about that for the boys are going to cook their own meals from the rations issued, and brought to the camp. We can't supply some of the diets asked for. These will have to be brought by the boys of those far away places such as South Africa and Australia. However, we can satisfy the average boy who will attend. For this we have ordered 155,000 loaves of bread, 18,000 jars of jam, 18,000 jars of pickles and relishes, 20 tons of meat and so on and on. I don't believe any restaurant in the country will have the words, "Pass me the bread, please", said in so many different languages. Around more than a thousand cooking fires will gather over 10,000 young men to prepare their three meals a day. I wonder what weird and wonderful things will be prepared on that extra evening fire which is a tradition in Scout camp all over the world! to satisfy that little extra hunger which a boy has before bed. Maybe it will be a hot dog, maybe it will be a cup of cocoa, or maybe it will be—who knows. Mother, how would you like to be there!

All this encased in the history rich Niagara-on-the-Lake setting. Our Canadian boys have had this brought to their back yard. Every First Class Scout in this country should attend this Jamboree, but it is only for the chosen boys of our Scout Troops. Each Scout Troop will have a chance to send a boy or maybe more. It is up to the boys to prepare themselves for this Adventure. To be a First Class Scout, the boy must be fourteen years old and to attend this he must be First Class before June 1st, 1955. He must also pay a camp fee as his share of the camp cost. Of course, he must also get there and back. All this is in the hands of our leaders and their Group Committees and sponsors. Such a small preparation for such a large reward in experience, a page of modern history unrolled on our own countryside.

We play hosts to the world of Scouting this summer. Who will come and shake hands with the world of youth? Well, it's up to you who are Scouts and who could be eligible. It is also up to you who are leaders to see that each boy has his opportunity. And it is also up to you parents whose boys could go. I suppose it is up to us all to see that our boys are ready and that they go. What stories, what friends, what memories to bring home! Well, now who will come with me to the World Jamboree of 1955? It is called the Jamboree of New Horizons. Who will come and see these new horizons?

study book, "Thirst of India," stressing how great have been the changes in India in a very short time. In modern India, transportation, elections and cities have changed rapidly when one considers the great handicap and problems of the rehabilitation in India of 4,000,000 refugees from Pakistan. It is encouraging that there is a new appreciation of Christian Missions and that the Christian Relief Teams are trusted by the people.

Mrs. Hiram Rodgers, who is a life member of the Anglican Woman's Auxiliary, and who was president of St. John's W.A. for so many years, gave a most interesting review of the history of this splendid Missionary organization of St. John's Church. In the early years the W.A. was rather a struggling concern but it was re-organized in the late twenties and has steadily progressed. Mrs. Frank McGee's daughter and Mrs. Rodgers' granddaughter, Laura, now Mrs. Allan Sine, was the first baby on the Little Helpers list. An Indian boy named Henry Warrior was the first baby outfitted.

Thank-offering boxes were used as well as pledge envelopes. Mrs. Rodgers followed Mrs. Alger, who had acted as President for nine years in 1939, and except for a few years in which Mrs. Harding, Mrs. Whitehead and Mrs. Walter Savage were Presidents, Mrs. Rodgers has carried on until last year when Mrs. J. S. Whitehead again became president.

In the beginning the organization's funds were not sufficient to cover the bales and Mr. R. P. Coulter and Mr. Bob Patterson were very considerate and helpful through the years. This is still true of Mr. Patterson, who is still in business here. Boxes of used clothing were sent where needed but now a large bale of new clothes is sent to an Indian School. Donations of $25.00 each are received by the W.A. for this purpose from St. John's Guild and the Ladies' League.

Mrs. Whitehead on behalf of the members, sincerely thanked Mrs. Rodgers for her excellent address and for her offer to help the W.A. all she could.

Mrs. Villette spoke of Mrs. Rodgers' words of appreciation at the December meeting for the splendid work done by Mrs. Everett Cooke as Past Secretary, and again thanked "Mary" for her enthusiastic work and devotion to this Missionary organization.

The meeting closed with the singing of "O Jesus I Have Promised To Serve Thee To The End," followed by a prayer.

Lunch was served after which Mrs. Noble thanked the conveners, Mrs. Charles Vance and Mrs. Whitehead for the very delicious lunch. The February meeting is to be held on Thursday the 17th in the Parish Hall.

Late Stanley Finch
We are sorry to report the death of a life-long resident of Rylstone, Stanley Finch, who passed away in the Belleville General Hospital on Sunday morning, February 6th, in his 66th year. He has not been in good health for some time, but since Christmas his health has been failing and a few weeks ago he was taken to the Campbellford Memorial Hospital, and from there to the Belleville General Hospital.

He leaves to mourn his wife, the former Jessie Anderson, one son, Earl, at home, one daughter, Mrs. Everett Lake, of Stirling, two sisters, Mrs. Archie Samus, of Dundonald, and Mrs. Mabel Finch, of Campbellford, and two brothers, Howard and Raymond, both of Rylstone. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Finch (nee Margaret Meiklejohn) predeceased him several years ago.

He spent all his life in the Rylstone community and was born on the farm now owned by Lindsay Finch on the 10th Line.

World Day of Prayer Feb. 25th

Women in many parts of the world are called to observe this day of prayer. From dawn to dusk, women of over 100 countries will unite in a service of praise, penitence and education.

On this one day each year, women hold the world together by prayer — transcending boundaries of race, time and temperature.

The theme for worship and meditation is "Abide In Me." This well-known, much loved passage in the Gospel of St. John, with its simile of the "vine and the branches," its message, "Abide in Me" and "I in you," and its prayer, "That all may be one," is something that we recognize as the foundation of our "One-ness," an experience of ecumenity.

Women of Protestant communions in Stirling are meeting for this great service in St. Paul's United Church at 2:30 p.m. on Friday, February 25th. Mrs. George Carlisle will conduct the service and Miss Genn Spry will be the guest speaker. The offering will be used to supply Christian literature throughout the world.

Last Sunday

On Sunday evening last, Dr. Packman gave the first of a short series of talks on "Read the Bible with Me." "We are concerned," he said, with its origin, its significance and its abiding worth. Among the high achievement of man, none is greater than the writing of books.

Written thousands of years ago by men of an alien land, none of them scholars in our sense of the word, the Bible is a remarkable book and it is not untrue to say that the destiny of the world will depend very largely on men's attitude towards it.

The Bible presents us with a picture of life, of your life and of my life, here is man as he is and as he ought to be so that studying the Bible is but another way of studying life, here is man's sin and man's fever, his glory and his shame. But it would be a mistake to imagine that in the Bible man is the central figure, he is not. God is the central figure, one like the "Hound of Heaven" none can escape.

Though the most primitive sections of the Bible have been buried in a mass of later editorial matter, some one thousand years of scholarly research has now brought to light the historical perspective of the unfolding revelation of God and against the dark background of man's sin, the Glory of God is but heightened and more clearly seen.

A Letter To The Editor

Dear Mr. Editor:

May I use your columns to draw public attention to an event which I am sure merits the interest and support of everyone in our community.

For the past six weeks it has been a common sight to see a veritable army of hockey players (pee-wee size) converging on Stirling Arena each Saturday morning. The boys have been waging some keen hockey battles under the watchful eyes of adult coaches and managers who give their time freely to see that our younger hockey players have an opportunity to play our national game.

The regular schedule has now been completed and the teams are preparing for a playoff series to decide the Pee-Wee championship of Stirling and District.

The semi-finals are scheduled for tonight (Thursday), commencing at 7.30 p.m., in the local arena. Two games will be played to decide who will meet in the finals for the league championship.

The finals will be played on Monday, February 21st, commencing at 7.30 p.m. Efforts are being made to secure a suitable trophy and crests for winning teams.

Fluoridation Helps Tooth Decay

It has been proved definitely that fluoridation of water helps prevent tooth decay, Health Minister Martin said in a return tabled Monday in the Commons.

He said one part per 1,000,000 of fluoride in water supply is 65 per cent effective.

Mrs. Earl Fox Hostess To St. Andrew's W.M.S.

The February meeting of St. Andrew's W.M.S. was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Fox. The President, Mrs. Roy Eggleton, extended a hearty welcome to the members and visitors. After the singing of the hymn, "What a Friend We Have in Jesus," Mrs. Eggleton led the meeting in prayer that our meetings this year may be in accordance with Thy will.

Mrs. Earl Fox read the minutes of the last meeting. The matter of the Bake Sale for the Bala was to be left over to the next meeting. The roll call followed. The word prayer was the keyword. It was encouraging that so many find time to find a verse of Scripture. At this time an expression of thanks was given to Miss Rosa Spry for her generosity in printing the programmes for the W.M.S. Each member is most grateful to Miss Spry for these programmes. Mrs. Earl Fox and Mrs. H. Rollins agreed to act as the visiting committee for this month.

The collection was taken by Mrs. R. A. Hermiston after which prayer was offered that the givings may come from our hearts.

The second part of the meeting was presided over by Mrs. R. A. Hermiston. The Scripture Lesson from Luke 10, verses 25 to 35, was read by Mrs. E. Foster. Mrs. (Rev.) W. H. V. Walker led the meeting in prayer for the people of India. The hymn "Jesus shall reign where'er the sun," was sung.

Mrs. R. A. Hermiston gave a vivid account of the geography of India as well as an account of her people. With a population of 362 million people in India, 302 million cannot read or write. Only 2 percent of that vast number of people can be claimed as Christians. The study book, "Face to Face with India," will bring us to see the need of these people. All these Indian people are real people. Magpuris, a mid-Indian city of nearly half a million people, is the focal centre of all the Protestant Missions in India.

The life and work of three Missionaries, now at work on the Mission fields in India, was read. Mrs. Blanche Reid read the work of Miss Bessie MacMurchy, R.N., who is training girls to become nurses on the Bhil Field. The life of Miss Mary Sherrick, B.A., was read by Mrs. A. O. Dalrymple. Miss Sherrick supervises the boarding school at Amkhat. Mrs. E. Hoard gave an account of the work of Miss Beatrice Scott, B.A. She is stationed at Mendha on the Bhil Field.

A piano solo, "In a Monastery Garden," was played by Mrs. V. Matthews.

The government official conditions in India was read by Mrs. Ken Ray. Both countries are a part of the British Commonwealth of Nations, but in 1947, India became independent. A description of the people and the weather of India was read by Mrs. W. L. Munro. The excessive heat causes people to become less energetic.

An article entitled, "Another Representative Indian," was read by Mrs. C. B. Rollins. The hymn, "Zion's King Shall Reign Victorious," brought the meeting to a close with the Mizpah Benediction.

The hostess assisted by Mrs. R. A. Hermiston and Mrs. Wright, served a delightful afternoon tea. On behalf of the Society, Mrs. H. Rollins thanked Mrs. Fox and her committee for the fine missionary programme and lunch.

Ivanhoe W.I. Met At Home Mrs. Geo. Wood

Ivanhoe Women's Institute was entertained by Mrs. G. Wood on Wednesday afternoon with twenty-three ladies present and two children.

President, Miss Jayne Gay, opened the meeting with the Ode and the Mary Stewart Collect. Mrs. Keith Bray presided at the piano. Mrs. J. Wright read the minutes of the last meeting and called the roll which was answered by "an article bought or made in Scotland." The treasurer reported and communications were read. It was voted that a donation be sent to the Sick Children's Hospital and the Mental Health Hospital; also that the Institute ask for the grant of $3.00 and add $6.00 more, and this money be used for educational purposes. The money is to be given as an award to the most efficient pupil, regardless of Grade, in the White Lake, West Huntingdon or Ivanhoe Schools. The teachers will be the judges.

The W.I. euchre party was reported on by Mrs. W. French. There were ten tables in play with the winners as follows: Ladies' first, Miss Carol Canniff; ladies' second, Mrs. Leo Coveney; gent's first, Harry Benson; gent's second, Mrs. H. Fitchett; men's birthday prize, Barton Haggerty; ladies' birthday prize, Mrs. Jean O'Coin.

The programme was opened with a sing-song. Mrs. G. Wood contributed several numbers on her accordion.

The president introduced and welcomed the guest speaker, Mrs. K. Nickle, of Madoc, who chose as her subject, "International Day." The speaker told of her tour through the United Nations Headquarters in New York, explaining its location, structure, and interior decorations, whom they were donated by, the use of these headquarters such as the A.A.U.N. unit, the public reception committee and the American Associations with the United Nations. Mrs. Nickle emphasized the need of reading and listening to the radio for more knowledge of the United Nations work and closed her educational talk with the use of a poem.

The president voiced the appreciation of all to Mrs. Nickle for her splendid address. Mrs. J. Wright gave an interesting paper on "Scotland." She told of its educational facilities, industrial manufacture, religion and historical background. She told of the organizing of the Institute in 1917 and the part played by the S.W.I.R. and the benefits derived from it. As women not only excel in their own homes, but are alive to worthy interest outside by working together with other countries in all their undertakings.

A lovely solo was rendered by Mrs. Nickle, "Your Blessings," with Mrs. Bray at the piano. A contest, "The best made pottholder," was won by Miss E. Tanner. The pot holders were sold by Mrs. E. McMaster and a nice profit was realized.

The hostess was thanked and refreshments were served.

St. Paul's W.M.S.

The regular monthly meeting of St. Paul's W.M.S. was held on February 8th. The President, Mrs. Geo. Carlisle, opened the meeting with a poem "Drop a Pebble in the Water," followed by prayer.

Mrs. Volney Richardson, Christian Citizenship Secretary, gave the call to worship, followed by responsive reading of Psalm 67. Mrs. H. Thrasher and Mrs. Carlisle read the Bible text from Acts 2: 1-4, 46-47; Acts 6: 42; Acts 11: 26. Mrs. Harold Wells led in prayer. Mrs. Geo. Heasman gave a solo, "I Will Pilot Thee."

Mrs. V. Richardson reviewed the story of Sekria from the study book. Mrs. Cecil Macklin, with the help of Mrs. P. Utman and Mrs. Richardson, dealt with the third chapter of the study book entitled, "The Faith They Follow." This showed how Indians as a whole are a religious people and how their religion differs from Christianity. It was noted that Communism implies it will do all that Christianity can do and do it more quickly. However, they have done nothing to improve the country such as the building of hospitals and schools.

Mrs. Macklin led a discussion on the question, "If we in Canada all followed the Christian way of life, what changes would be made in (1) the home; (2) business; (3) society; (4) church; (5) politics; (6) international relation."

Mrs. W. Barker read a poem, "We Go This Way But Once," and presented Mrs. Jack McCaughen with a Life Membership in the W.M.S. in recognition of her devotion to Mission

The top of the tree represented the Dominion Board; the branches, the Conference Branches; the trunk, the Presbyterians; the roots, the Auxiliaries, Mission Bands, etc. Mrs. Eggleton concluded her report with prayer for Miss Muriel Stephenson, Neenuch, India.

Plans were made for the World's Day of Prayer on February 25th and the meeting closed with the Mizpah Benediction.

A wedding of local interest took place in Holy Trinity Church, Fonthill, Ontario, on Saturday, February 5th at 4 o'clock, when Margaret Elaine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wilson, of Fonthill, became the wife of Mr. Robert Norman Voaden, son of Dr. and Mrs. Wendell W. Voaden, of St. Catharines. The Rev. Ralph Price officiated at the pretty ceremony.

The wedding music was provided by Mrs. Lloyd Emerson, organist, and Mrs. Alfred Wilson, soloist. White chrysanthemums were used on the altar and at either side were candles in candelabra. Ivy trails and white bows marked the guest pews.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a picture gown of white antique-taffeta with long, full skirt, three-quarter sleeves and a bateau neck with Gulpure lace edging. She wore a little gold cross and chain and her mother's wedding veil which was caught in a bandeau of Gulpure lace. She carried a white orchid on a prayer book.

Attending her were Miss Diane Wilson, maid of honour, Miss Lynn Voaden and Miss Elsie Stirtzinger. Their dresses, made alike, were of red crystalite taffeta with trimming of red velvet at the bateau necklines, extending down the back to form a wide pleat in the skirt, with a large bow as accent. Bandoaux of the velvet with little veils and matching velvet muffs with clusters of white chrysanthemums, completed their ensembles.

Mr. Edwin Curtis was groomsmen and ushering were Mr. James Bowers and Mr. Donald Buchanan.

Immediately after the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Voaden held a reception at Prudhomme's Garden Centre. For going away the bride changed to a rose suit with matching hat, a brown fur jacket and brown bag and gloves. Upon their return Mr. and Mrs. Voaden will live at 41 Welland Ave., St. Catharines.

River Valley Farm Forum

River Valley Farm Forum met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Kane on February 14th with eighteen attending.

The topic, "Support prices for farm products," was the subject of the radio broadcast.

Local opinion was that supports are necessary, so that the producer may receive enough to live on and buy the necessary manufactured goods needed in the business of farming; and also to sell on export markets at world prices. The countries which have a guaranteed price for a year ahead seem to have the least unemployment.

OF MANY THINGS

(By Ambrose Hills)

HOW FREE AM I?

I seem to be making some people angry these days. A reader in high dudgeon writes, "You talk a lot about free enterprise. But how free is the man who has to go to work each morning when the factory whistle blows? How free is a hungry man? Indeed, since you talk so much about it, how free are you?"

Let's just ignore the sarcasm and try to answer the man's questions.

First, about that man who has to go to work each morning when the factory whistle blows. Yes, I think he is free, and I also think he is lucky. In Canada, the factory whistle says, "Your job is here, if you want it, at fair pay, in decent surroundings. If you don't like this factory you can stay home, or you can try another factory, or be a salesman, or a carpenter, or whatever you can persuade customers you can do well. You can even start your own factory if enough friends have confidence in you to help you raise the money." That's quite a bit of freedom. It would be quite different if all the factories were owned by the government, and the government blew the factory whistle. Then it would say, "Your supreme boss is calling. Get down to work — or starve!" That's the kind of thing I fear when the government owns more and more every day.

Now, the second question was: How free is a hungry man? Thank God, free men in free countries are not so likely to be hungry as are the citizens of slave states where the government is in supreme command. A hungry man is in a tragic position, whether he be free or slave, just as a man afflicted with small pox is in a tragic condition. But the hungry man, if free, has an opportunity in a million different ways to earn food for himself and his family. He can earn more easily here in a free country than he can anywhere else in the world.

And how free am I? Well, I still think I'm pretty free. My opinions are published in hundreds of papers where I've never met the editor at all, where I have not the slightest pull or influence. I write exactly as I please. Editors who disagree with me consign me to the wastebasket, or publish me and let readers decide to believe or not believe. If my facts are wrong, they check me up fast.

Because I'm a writer, I'm glad the press is still free. Radio and TV are not so free, more's the pity, because the government has taken a hand there and criticism of the government is rare and timid on the air. I feel sorry for radio news commentators, because if they displease the government they've no other national radio chain to turn to. That's why I argue so often on that point.

I haven't answered the questions fully. There's not enough space. But I hope I've given the angry man who wrote me so sarcastically a fair answer that will make him think — unless he prefers to let freedom go altogether because it takes some energy to keep it alive!

Pictures, Maps Enhance Book On Rosier-Rosebush Family

Mr. Waldo E. Rosebush, Appleton, Wisconsin, has compiled and had printed a 180-page book of "The Rosier-Rosebush Family."

There is a wealth of pictures and maps and one is a land map of the area around Stirling, Ont. Another is a pioneer picture comprising the Townships of Rawdon and Sidney in Hastings County.

Several church records from Stirling appear on the pages, also extracts written by Philo White for "The Stirling News-Argus." Philo tells of Joseph Rosebush and his family of ten children and where they all were settled and his story was written in 1886.

Philo was born in 1809, and was a civil engineer conducting land surveys. He wrote many articles for various journals. There is a thrilling story of how the family arrived "on ice" and landed on a point of land jutting from the east bank of the Trent River, where it bends westwardly to Glen Ross. They spent the winter there and in the spring one son came to "Hubble Hill," now known as Mount Pleasant, Rawdon, and remained there for a few months before moving on.

Crown Property Deeded

The property at Trent River was eventually deeded from the Crown and for seven generations "Rosebushes" have occupied the land.

The book contains items written by Dr. Harry W. Mack, Detroit; Mrs. Percy MacMullen, Mount Pleasant; Mrs. Roy Bush, River Valley, and a full appendix of the various families who have intermarried in the Rosebush clan. A full outline of "The William White Family" with their pioneer thriller of the little boy spending three days in the Indian camp; a full history of the "Westcott" family of "Hubble Hill;" "The Hoard and Chard" families, as well as the Luerys of Stirling, all appear in print.

The book is full of interesting United Empire Loyalist history, and is a gold mine of by-gone days, all arranged in good form. It is understood that the Stirling, Belleville and Trenton Public Libraries each have a reference copy.

Mrs. Roy Bush, Stirling, R.R. 4, received her copy a short time ago and has found the many exclusive articles most interesting. The book was published in Appleton, Wisconsin, in September 1954. The pictures are of the pioneers of Rhode Island and of Alfred, New York, the Rosebush family, of New York State, the Rosebush families of Ontario, and the Lewis Rosebush homestead along the Trent River, the excursion boat "Stoney Lonesome" and many other views of particular interest to folks in this area.

The abridged edition is also a book of interest to the youth of today who are connected up with the early pioneers.

Borrow For Less

The general public eventually may be able to borrow money at lower interest rates as a result of the Bank of Canada's decision to reduce its charges on loans to chartered banks.

The chartered banks normally do not get many loans from the central banking agency, but the so-called "bank rate" for such loans has a tendency to set a general pattern for lending charges in the Canadian money market.

The reduction to 1½ per cent from two, announced by the bank Monday, was the first since it was lowered to 1½ per cent from 2½ in 1944. The rate was increased to two per cent in 1950.

SOIL AND CROP IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATION CONVENTION GREAT SUCCESS

Another successful Annual Convention has just been concluded by the Ontario Soil and Crop Improvement Association. Activity of the 55 county and district branches is at an all-time high. Reports indicate that membership, numbers of projects, and attendance at meetings of most branches has steadily increased during recent years.

At the recent meeting of the Provincial group, Wilfred J. Schneller, of Baden, retired as President. He is succeeded by Andrew Johnston, of Renfrew, with W. W. Dawson, of Peterborough, as 1st vice-president, and Jas. McBain, M.P., of St. Thomas, elected as 2nd vice-president. Members of the executive are George Vansickle, Cainsville; Harry Strang, of Hensall, and A. D. Ralph, of Kemptonville. A. H. Martin, Toronto, remains as Secretary-Treasurer, with Honourable F. S. Thomas, of St. Thomas, as Honorary President.

The eighteen directors not only represent that number of districts in the Province, but it so happens they are active farmers, reside in areas respectively devoted to dairy, beef, cattle, and the various cash crops. New names this year as directors are Eugene Lemon, Stouffville; John Ferguson; Cyrus Lowden, Smithville; A. E. Austin, Emo.

The new President, Andrew Johnston, of Renfrew, is a successful farmer of that district, specializing in potatoes, seed grain, and beef cattle. He is a graduate of Kemptonville Agricultural School, and since starting farming for himself more than twenty years ago, has taken special interest in drainage and conservation problems. Active in many community projects, he also takes an active part in several Ottawa Valley organizations. He has represented Carleton, Lanark and Renfrew Counties since 1949 and has been a member of the Provincial executive since 1952.

RUTABAGA EXPORT SHOWS LARGE INCREASE

Sales of Ontario rutabagas to the United States are up 27.9% this year as compared with the same period a year ago, reports the Field Crops Branch of the Ontario Department of Agriculture. The increase to date amounts to 258,096 bushels with 64.7% of the turnips exported being waxed.

Domestic sales of rutabagas are considered to exceed the amount exported. Though exact figures for local markets are more difficult to obtain, suppliers report a marked increase in sales through retail food outlets.

Turnips (or rutabagas) have always been popular in cold weather, but of late, housewives and caterers have been using them regularly to help provide appetizing, nutritious, low cost meals. Science has improved the quality of turnips greatly and experiments have proved that with proper cooking there is no strong flavour or odor. Turnips should be cooked quickly in a small amount of boiling water. This method also retains the vitamin C content which is important to health. Raw turnips have now become popular ingredients of salads and are frequently served as "turnip sticks."

The Nutrition Section of the Women's Institute Branch was recently revised their excellent booklet of recipes entitled "The Delectable Canadian Rutabaga," Circular No. 77. This booklet may be obtained free of charge from the Statistics and Publications Branch of the Ontario Department of Agriculture, Room 4430, Parliament Buildings, Toronto, or from county and district offices of Agricultural Representatives.

River Valley Farm Forum

River Valley Farm Forum met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Bush with 13 members present.

Last week representatives of 532 Forums met in Ontario — a good sign that farmers are taking an interest in their future.

The topic, "Public Relations," was well expressed on the broadcast, and in a discussion afterwards. If the Citizen's Forum and the Farm Forum would sometimes exchange programs, the people of city and county would understand each other's view point much better. We are all citizens of a wonderful country and its future will be well assured if all work together.

When a person in the city buys beef, do they know it takes at least two years to produce it? It takes from six to eight months to produce pork, and six months and over to get eggs from the young chicks.

A farmer has to plow his land in the autumn and sow the following spring — and wait until harvest to get feed for livestock, a year's labour and value of seed and machinery before he can feed his animals. He has to put all his resources into production and gamble on the weather, the ups and downs of the various markets and compete with other countries in the markets of the world.

The factories in the cities may often be the joint investment of several people, with a good financial reserve, in order to compete in local and world markets. One advantage in the city is that work can go on regardless of weather conditions, whereas if the farmer tries to work his land too wet in a late spring, he may get very little return in crop. Or in the case of a very severe winter as in 1934, fall-sown grain and meadows may winter kill very badly. A manufacturer may sometimes have to face unexpected severe competition, so all have their problems in production.

According to an article in a paper, when you buy some kinds of cereal you are paying about six times the amount the producer receives for his grain, and in meats from at least two to three times as much as it was sold for originally and often more. As people in the city and country are dependent on each other for goods in the raw and manufactured products, the more we understand how the other fellow lives, the better for all concerned.

The Breakfast Pattern

Is breakfast the forgotten meal at your house? Most people get an adequate lunch or supper and one never neglects dinner but many are too rushed or too sleepy to eat a proper breakfast.

Breakfast should be counted on for a quarter to a third of the food needed for the day and good organization in the morning is a big help in enticing the family to eat the kind of breakfast that they should. The breakfast table can be set neatly the night before and such things as the coffee pot and toaster can be left in readiness for the morning. When planning breakfast, lunch, supper and dinner should be taken into consideration. If some member of the family carries a lunch or does shift work and cannot be home for dinner, breakfast to him is a very important meal.

One of the nicest things about breakfast is that it need never become monotonous. While you can adapt a fairly regular pattern of fruit or fruit juice, cereal or another main dish, toast, jam or jelly, and milk or coffee — you can vary each of these by serving them in a different way or by using different kinds of fruits and cereals. For example, think of all the different ways eggs can be served — in the shell, soft cooked or hard cooked, fluffy light scrambled eggs, tender fried eggs, well rounded poached eggs on toast, coddled eggs and shirred or baked eggs. There you have seven ways, already, one for each day of the week without mentioning plain or fluffy omelets, or eggs served with other foods like bacon and ham.

In the shell or out — nothing can match the wonderful flavour of fresh Grade A eggs cooked well. Even though all experienced homemakers know how eggs should be cooked, there may be a few new at homemaking who would appreciate a few tips on cooking eggs. The home economists of the Consumer Section, Canada Department of Agriculture say that no matter how eggs are cooked, in water, in a frying pan or in the oven they should be cooked with low or moderate heat. It is easy to understand how the delicate protein of an egg would become tough and leathery when cooked at high temperature.

There are two equally good methods of preparing soft cooked eggs — for the first you heat the water in a saucepan to the boiling point, put the eggs in and cover. Then place the saucepan in a warm place where the water will be kept below the boiling point. For soft cooked eggs allow between six and eight minutes. The second way is to place the eggs in a saucepan and cover with cold water, then bring to the boil. Remove the saucepan from the heat as soon as the water comes to a vigorous boil and for soft cooked eggs leave them in the hot water for one or two minutes and serve immediately. In both cases the length of cooking time may be increased or decreased according to taste.

For creamy scrambled eggs, beat the eggs slightly. Add a tablespoon of milk for each egg and combine with salt and pepper. Melt a little butter in a frying pan or double boiler and cook the egg mixture very slowly stirring constantly until it thickens.

To poach eggs, break them into enough boiling salted water to cover. Swirl the water around each egg as it is dropped in. Cook below the boiling point until the egg is done, covering to insure even cooking. This will take about three minutes. It is best to poach not more than two or three eggs at a time.

For tender fried eggs with bacon, cook the bacon first then fry the eggs in the bacon fat over low heat for about three minutes or until the whites are firm. Then they are ready to serve "sunny-side-up" with the cooked bacon and hot buttered toast. To more thoroughly cook the eggs, they may be turned over and left in the pan a minute or two longer.

Canadians are not the only ones who enjoy eating eggs for breakfast; Scandinavian people like them and use special little cups and tiny spoons to eat eggs cooked in the shell. The people of France like to dip strips of bread into eggs in the shell and eat them that way. The English often use bone or ivory spoons for they know how egg yolk tarnishes silver ones. Breakfast differs according to family customs and where people live as well as for economical reasons and personal preferences, but eggs are a universal favourite for this first meal of the day.

Forest Protection

Work on radio, telephone and fire fighting equipment overhaul is progressing well and the District equipment will be in good shape for whatever materializes in the Spring. With purchases being made before the end of March our list of fire fighting equipment should be adequate for all normal needs and under the new Regional set up we will have access to a good reserve cache of the most vital fire fighting equipment. A number of new maps for lookout towers in the District are being completed and fire prevention signs will be re-painted this month for use at well selected points along roads and at camping sites.

Fish and Wildlife

Officers report that the low temperature of last week discouraged hunting and fishing activities. One group of anglers attempted to reach their favourite lake, but most of the day was required to extricate their car from the deep snow of a side road. To add to their grief motor trouble developed and before they were able to begin the home journey two or three were suffering from frost bitten fingers and toes. To quote from Officer Bruce Page's report for this date: "Our thermometer showed all of the mercury in ball, well below the 26 mark which was the lowest point in the graduation scale."

Stirling Rotarians Honour Memory P. Harris, Founder of Organization

"In The Beginning," Por- trayed By The Members — Attendance Trophy Won

On the eve of Rotary's Golden Anniversary, Stirling Rotarians paid fitting tribute to the memory of Paul Harris, founder of the organization, at their regular weekly meeting on Tuesday night.

President R. W. Vandervoort occupied the chair and there was a 100% attendance of the members. A toast to Paul Harris, the founder of Rotary International, was ably proposed by Rotarian Wm. Cornett.

A short skit, "In The Beginning," depicting the discussions of Paul Harris and three of his law clients — which led to the organization of the first Rotary Club was ably presented by several of the members. Dr. Cornett played the part of Paul Harris, with A. O. Dalrymple, as Silvester Schiele, a coal merchant; Geo. Noble, as Gustavus Loehr, a mining engineer, and Harold Wells, as Hiram Shorey, a merchant tailor. President Ralph acted as narrator and Bob Patterson represented Harry Ruggles, a printer, and the first song leader of the newly formed club.

Attendance Trophy

The head table was graced with the Attendance Trophy, which the local club won for the second time by having the best attendance in the district during the month of January. President Ralph thanked the members for their co-operation in making this possible and urged them to continue the good work.

Rotarian James Wright voiced the thanks of the club to those present in the skit.

Paul Harris Founder

It is surely appropriate on the occasion of Rotary's Golden Anniversary to recall the man who is responsible for all the inception of this movement. Paul Harris had a busy and varied life and it was his good fortune to live through to the days when Rotary had already attained most of its present might.

Early Days

He was born in Racine, Wisconsin, on April 19th, 1868, and when he was three years old he was taken to Wallingford, Vermont, to live with his paternal grandparents. The Black River Academy at Ludlow, Vermont, and Vermont Academy at Saxtons River prepared him for his studies at the University of Vermont, Princeton University and the University of Iowa.

Following his graduation from the law school of the University of Iowa, in 1891, he determined to spend the next five years in seeing the world and in coming to know his fellow men before settling down to practice law in Chicago. He worked as a reporter on newspapers in San Francisco and Denver, was a teacher in a Los Angeles business college, worked on a California fruit farm and in a raising-packing factory, was an actor in a Denver stock company and a cowboy on a Colorado ranch. Then he went to the southern part of the United States where he picked oranges in Louisiana and travelled extensively as a salesman for a marble and granite concern. He made two trips to England, working on cattle boats and later travelled to Europe to visit the granite regions of Scotland and the marble regions of Ireland, Belgium and Italy for his company. These five years of knock-about experiences broadened his vision and the acquaintances which he made in college and on these travels were of material assistance in the early extension of Rotary.

Settled in Chicago

In 1896 his five-year period of wanderings was over and, as he had planned, Paul Harris went to Chicago to practice law. One day in 1900 he dined with a lawyer friend in Rogers Park, a residential section of Chicago. After dinner he took a walk with his friend and was impressed by the fact that his friend stopped at several stores and shops in the neighbourhood and introduced him to the proprietors, who were his friends. Paul Harris' law clients were business friends, not social friends, but this experience set him to wondering why he couldn't make social friends out of at least some of his business friends — and he resolved to organize a club which would band together a group of representative business and professional men in friendship and fellowship.

For the next several years he devoted a great deal of time to reflection on conditions of life and business and by 1905, he had formulated a definite philosophy of business relations. Talking it over with three of his law clients — Silvester Schiele, a coal merchant; Gustavus Loehr, a mining engineer, and Hiram Shorey, a merchant tailor — he decided, with them, to organize the club which had been planning since 1900. On February 23rd, 1905, the club's first meeting took place and the nucleus was formed for the thousands of Rotary Clubs which were later organized throughout the world. The new club, which Paul Harris named "Rotary" because the members met, in rotation, in their various places of business, met with general approval and the club membership grew rapidly. Almost every member had come to Chicago from a small town and in the Rotary Club they found an opportunity for the intimate acquaintanceship of their boyhood days. When Paul Harris became president of the club in its third year he was ambitious to advance its growth and to extend the Rotary movement to other cities because he was convinced that the idea of the Rotary Club which had appealed to a small group of friends in Chicago could be developed into an important movement.

Rotary Expands

The Second Rotary Club was founded in San Francisco in 1908 and then other clubs were organized until in 1910, when there were 16 clubs, it was decided that they should be united into an organization which would extend the movement to other cities and serve as a clearing house for the exchange of ideas among the clubs. Representatives from the clubs met in Chicago in August, 1910, and organized the National Association of Rotary Clubs. When clubs were formed in Canada and Great Britain, making the movement international in scope, the name was changed. In 1912, to the International Association of Rotary Clubs, and in 1922 the name was shortened to Rotary International. Paul Harris was the first president of the National Association and the first president of the International Association.

When he passed away in January, 1947, he was President Emeritus of Rotary International.

Parents' Night At Cub Meeting

On Monday, February 21st, the Cubs entertained some forty-five parents at their regular meeting, which opened with Baloo breaking the flag and the Grand Howl, led by Allen Tanner. Bageera offered prayer in memory of the founder, Lord Baden Powell, after which Baloo took over and the Cubs had a steam-off game.

A skit was presented, under the direction of Akela, depicting the progress of a boy from his start in Cubbing at 8 years of age, until he earns his second star and advances into Scouts. All the boys took part in this and did their parts exceptionally well.

Rev. W. G. Fletcher told the boys a story and Rikkie led the boys in an action song, after which Jack Donnan recited "The Tenderpad."

Akela presented the following boys with badges, Keunee Keuning, Bob Donohoe, and Denny Armstrong, with Artist Badges; Peter Bosiac and Bob Donohoe, with Collector badges; Allen Johnson, with an Athlete's badge.

Baloo led in a round of campfire songs and the meeting closed with the campfire closing. Lunch was served by the leaders and thus closed the first Parent's Night.

Stirling 4-H Girls Harmony Club Prepare For Achievement Day

The Girl's Harmony Thimble 4-H Club held its closing meeting at the home of the Assistant Leader, Mrs. A. Dalrymple on Wednesday evening of last week with a good attendance. One member was absent due to an attack of flu. Miss Marlene Moorcroft, the President, opened the meeting with the roll call, "completion of work on blouses."

The bills were presented and ordered paid. This club is self-supporting and is in no way connected with the local Women's Institute. A "thank you" note was voted to be sent by the Secretary to Mr. Dalrymple and Mr. Francis for the use of the Agriculture Board Room for the classes. The club appreciates the kindness very much as it is a central place for the meetings.

As the Achievement Day is Saturday, February 26th at the Community Hall, the Club Girls were asked to invite girl chums who may be interested in club work, and a special invitation to the girls' mothers. Leader, Mrs. Perry Bronson, discussed the final preparations of Achievement Day.

Miss Jeanette Ayhrhart was appointed to do the serving at noon lunch on Achievement Day. This club is to furnish sandwiches. Miss Marlene Carlisle will be the voting delegate for the Harmony Thimble Club for the new project to follow favoured by this club.

After business the Junior girls completed their record books with decorative covers. This was followed by a skit practice in which all club members participated, which will be presented along with several other 4-H Clubs competing on Achievement Day. The meeting closed with the recitation of the Mizpah Benediction. The hostess served tasty refreshments which were enjoyed.

Carmel Church Visits St. Paul's

On Sunday evening the Carmel Church visited St. Paul's United Church. The service was conducted by Mr. Harry Brown who, in spite of a recent injury, proved himself well fitted for the task.

Mrs. Arthur Pyear presided at the organ and a good choir rendered some fine singing. The anthems "God So Loved The World" and "Great Is The Lord" were well sung, the solo parts of the latter being taken by Mrs. Gerald Clancy and Mr. Douglas Pyear. Mrs. Clancy and Douglas Pyear also sang a duet, "Come Almighty To Deliver."

Mr. Ernest Carlisle brought greetings from Carmel. The Lessons were read by Mr. Archie Bailey and Mr. Russell Pyear.

Later in the school room, about 120 friends were entertained by St. Paul's W.A., this with some much loved singing was heartily enjoyed. Several Carmel friends and friends of St. Paul's made short speeches and all felt that this exchange of visits should be repeated at a convenient day in the future.

Scouts And Guides Attend St. Paul's On Founder's Sunday

A crowded church saw a splendid parade of Scouts and Guides with their Juniors and Officers on Sunday last at St. Paul's United Church for their Founder's Day service. There was a touch of neatness and evidence of good training in the orderliness with which the parade was carried out. The Officers are to be highly commended for the fine work being done for our youth; a more worthwhile job is hard to imagine.

The address was directed to the re-thinking about the Promises we make when we ask to join these organizations and the decisions involved in doing so. As in the case of marriage or of one's Life Plan, this is not an occasion for a quick decision, it is something we have to think about for it involves one's honour.

Stirling Pee Wees Lose To Havelock

Defeated Bancroft 5 to 0 In First Game of Tourney At Havelock On Saturday

Six Pee Wee hockey teams from this district participated in sudden-death playdowns in the community arena at Havelock on Saturday afternoon, each competing for a silver cup, symbol of the district championship.

While O.M.H.A. and T.V.L. games have been played on this ice surface, probably none were played with more enthusiasm than the 95 youngsters who took part in Saturday's finals displayed.

The entire affair was organized by Donald "Doc" Kirk, of Havelock, who is known as "Mr. Hockey" to almost every sports-minded youngster of the community.

Mr. Kirk's Havelock team captured the Rotary Cup in fast, clean competition. First, they defeated a team from Norwood by a 4-0 score. Next they knocked out Marmora with a 6-1 score and finally defeated the runner-up, Stirling with a 2-0 shut-out.

Stirling Won

Over Bancroft

In the third game of the tourney Stirling triumphed over Bancroft 5-0, but lost to the Havelock squad in the final 2-0.

Very few penalties were handed out during the five games and the only injury was to Bob Montgomery, of Stirling, in the last game of the day. Montgomery got in the way of a flying puck in front of the Havelock nets and received a cut over his eye which required several stitches to close.

Each team supplied its own linesmen and referee duties were handled by Wilbert Seenev, of Havelock, Harold Hunter, of Havelock, Ken Gilles, of Stirling, and Bob Garden, of Norwood. The Havelock Rotary Club supplied a cup which was presented to Havelock at the close of the competition. The cup will be retained permanently by the team as a symbol of their championship.

Confer Degree

Members of Campbellford Lodge I.O.O.F., paid a visit to Stirling Lodge last night and conferred the Initiatory Degree on three candidates. Following the impressive ceremony a number of short addresses were given. D.D.G.M. J. Poulton Jr., Campbellford, was in attendance and addressed the lodge.

Rev. Owen Johnson, Bancroft, Guest Speaker At St. John's Church

On Sunday, February 13th, the evening service was conducted by Rev. Owen Johnson, rector of the Bancroft Parish. In his sermon, Rev. Johnson outlined three basic requirements for applying Christian ideals to modern living. Following a literal definition of the word "cynic" he expounded the theme that true Christians must be cynical (in the original sense of the word) so that they can recognize the true value of man's role in this earthly life. The speaker then emphasized that cheerfulness and humbleness are essential parts of Christian life and suggested that our "Joy in Salvation" should outweigh our "Sadness in sin."

After the service, Rev. Johnson was the guest speaker at an open meeting of the St. John's Men's Association, Mr. Ralph Andrews, President of the Association, introduced the speaker with a brief biographical outline and also welcomed the lady members of the congregation in attendance.

Speaks To Men's Association

Rev. Johnson gave an interesting and informative account of his work at the St. Francis Boys' Home in Ellsworth, Kansas. The Home was founded by Rev. Robert A. Mize in 1945 and this man soon became an almost legendary character in the State and was fondly referred to by the boys as "Father Bob." Rev. Johnson joined the staff as Assistant Supervisor and Chaplain in October 1949 and served in these capacities until his return to Canada in March 1953. His experience at the Home were recounted with a wealth of detail, accentuated by numerous witticisms and humorous anecdotes which intrigued his audience.

All the boys at the Home were victims of broken homes and had fallen foul of the law for varying reasons, some minor and some serious. The Home routine was both "Christ centred" and "Society centred" said the speaker, explaining these terms by describing the home organization. There are two units with twenty to twenty-five boys in each and these are centrally controlled from an office in Salina. Each unit had its own chapel where the boys conducted their own services daily. They also assisted the Chaplain when he officiated at the Ellsworth Parish Church and occasionally took over the service there completely. Religion was discussed and practised so openly that it soon became an integral part of each boy's life and this produced a receptive pupil who could be guided on the right road to take his place in the world again.

The most unique principle employed by the Home was the idea of keeping the boys in a normal everyday environment as much as possible. They attended the village schools, theatres etc., and mixed with the local people on every possible occasion. A graded system of supervision was used and the older pupils could become honour students and attain almost complete freedom from restrictions except for the privilege of overnight absence from the Home. This was only granted when a boy's relatives or a local family would accept responsibility.

Rev. Johnson stated his conviction that Canada needs at least one similar establishment and expressed the hope that he would some day, perhaps, be able to take up this wonderful work in our own country. The story of his experience at St. Francis, although modestly told, impressed his audience that he is certainly ideally suited to such a task.

Further information was dispensed by the speaker's answers to several questions which showed that he had kindled a lively interest among his listeners. Mr. Bruce Bell voiced the thanks of all present and a generous round of applause was accorded Rev. Johnson for his truly illuminating address. The President of the Association, added words of thanks to the speaker and the other guests and the meeting closed with a short prayer by Rev. H. C. Secker, Rector of St. John's.

Eggleton Mission Band

The regular monthly meeting of Eggleton Mission Band was held on Friday afternoon at the school house.

President, Norma Woodcox, presided over a programme prepared by Shirley Prest and Sharon Reide. Miss Marlene Armstrong presided at the piano. The worship period was conducted by Bob Clarke, reading the Scripture Lesson from 23rd Psalm.

Each member answered the roll call by repeating the first two of the Ten Commandments. Lois Danford took up the offering.

A trol by Norma Woodcox, Joyce Madill and Annamae Clarke sang, "Do You Know?" which was greatly appreciated. Archie Madill and Norma Woodcox were appointed to prepare the programme for the march meeting.

Mrs. M. Clancy gave the second and third chapter of "A Friend for the Village" and "The New Church," from the study book "The Fig Tree Village." Paul Bridges gave a reading, "Glynnas Meets Mr. Ground Hog." All repeated the benediction.

Refreshments were served by the lunch conveners Sharon Reide and Marilyn Stapley.

At the close Marion Matthews moved a hearty vote of thanks to Carol, and all joined in singing "For She's A Jolly Good Fellow."

Entered Into Rest

LATE STANLEY GORGE FINCH

The death of Stanley George Finch occurred at the Belleville General Hospital on Sunday, February 6th in his 66th year, after an illness of around three weeks.

He was born on the 10th Line of Rawdon Township, where he was a life long resident. His father was the late George Wesley Finch, and his mother, the late Margaret Melkielejohn. He was converted an early age and faithfully attended the Gospel Hall.

Belleville Presbytery Met At Belleville

Belleville Presbytery of the United Church met at Bridge Street United Church, Belleville, on February 17th with Rev. George Minnelly as chairman and Rev. Kenneth Crawford as secretary.

Rev. L. S. Throop, chairman of the Church Extension Committee, challenged the members of Presbytery to finish the task of raising their allocations for the Church Extension Fund. Several told of the spirit of self-sacrifice shown by congregations to raise money for this very important fund which has made possible the erecting of scores of new church buildings in new housing areas around cities, mining areas and industrial developments. Rev. Arthur Packman, of Stirling, gave a vivid picture of new churches erected at Swastika and other Northern Ontario centres. Rev. James Mackay, Home Mission Superintendent, spoke of Knob Lake, Que., where Mr. Douglas Ross, at present student minister at North Trenton Church, served for the past two summers as supply. Now the congregation have asked for the services of a full time minister and will pay $2500 toward salary and provide a residence. They also want to build a Church and will endeavour to raise between $18,000 and $20,000 themselves.

College Hill Church, in Belleville, is an illustration of the help given through the Church Extension Fund. This church has already accepted its allocation to help other churches. Some churches have delayed much needed building programmes of their own to raise money for Church Extension and others have put off efforts to pay off mortgages for the same reason. Churches which have not yet met with their allocations are to be visited in the coming month.

Rev. C. H. Dickinson, D.D., Book Steward of the United Church, told of the encouraging results thus far of the United Church Observer Family Plan, which has increased the number of subscribers within a year and a half from 45,000 to 160,000 and called upon other congregations to give it a try.

It was announced that a series of Lay Rallies will be held the second week of March, starting with Coe Hill on the 7th; Concession on the 8th; Marmora on the 9th; Selby on the 10th and Cannifton on the 11th.

An appeal was made to pay off the debt on Quin-Mo-Lac Camp, where 700 of our boys and girls and young people receive inspiration and recreation each summer.

Those attending Presbytery from Stirling and district were Rev. Arthur Packman, Rev. W. G. Fletcher, Messrs. Harold C. Martin, E. R. Carlsle and Orno Sharp.

Mrs. L. Tanner Hostess To St. Thomas W.A.

St. Thomas W.A. held their annual meeting at the home of Mrs. Lindsay Tanner on Tuesday afternoon with nine members present. The meeting opened by the President with a hymn, the Litany and special prayers. Mrs. Tanner then welcomed everyone and gave a summary of the year's work, expressing thanks and appreciation to all members and friends for their loyal support and co-operation during the past year.

The Secretary, Mrs. Colden, gave a detailed account of the activities of the branch during the past year. Miss Edna Tanner presented the Treasurer's report which showed a balance of $216.00 on hand. The General Thanksgiving was reported. Miss Tanner also reported five subscriptions to the "Living Message."

Canon Brownlie spoke a few words of congratulations to the officers and members of the W.A. for their very encouraging reports, complimenting them on the success of the year. He conducted the election of officers which resulted as follows:

President — Mrs. Ted Preston
Vice-President — Mrs. Percy Ray
Secretary — Mrs. Ed. Colden
Treasurer — Miss Edna Tanner
Dorcas Secretary — Mrs. Percy Ray

Eggleton W.M.S. And W.A.

The February meeting of Eggleton W.M.S. and W.A. was held at the home of Mrs. Carl Bridges on Thursday with a good attendance.

The offering was taken after which Mrs. Gordon Nelson read the January minutes and called the roll with fifteen ladies present.

Clarke and Mrs. McMullen were appointed to make arrangements for a play to be held sometime in March. An invitation to attend the World's Day of Prayer at St. Paul's United Church, Stirling, was read.

Mrs. Russell Stapley, of Stirling, a former member of the Association, offered her home for the March meeting with Mrs. Bruce Stapley as programme convener. Two visits were reported for the month of February. Later in February the members were asked to the home of Mrs. M. Clancy for an afternoon tea at which ideas for the bazaar are to be pooled.

During the programme Mrs. Chas. Stapley read "New Days." Mrs. M. Clancy sang, "The Beautiful Garden of Prayer." "Reading the Bible," was read by Mrs. Robert Danford. Mrs. Clarence Fitchett gave the second chapter of the study book.

Salem W.A. Met At Home of Mrs. Hagerman

The February meeting of Salem W.A. was held on Thursday of last week at the home of Mrs. J. B. and Lorne Hagerman in the form of a dinner and quilting. Approximately fifty members, visitors and men set down to well filled tables.

During the afternoon Mrs. Holden, the President, called the meeting to order and opened with the theme song and prayer. She then read a suitable poem. The Secretary, Mrs. Broadworth, read the minutes of the last meeting and roll call was answered with an exchange of Valentines. Mrs. Tom Clements gave the Treasurer's report. Several "thank you" notes were acknowledged.

The meeting was turned over to Mrs. Albert Twiddy. A hymn was sung and Mrs. George Sine led in prayer. Mrs. Orval Jackson read the Scripture Lesson. Mrs. Will Johnson gave a reading entitled "St. Valentine." Mrs. Vene Hagerman favoured with a piano solo. Mrs. Francis Jeffrey sang a solo, which was very much enjoyed. Mrs. Mayo read a poem, "Friendship," and Mrs. Tom Clements gave a well prepared paper on "Friendship," which was the theme of the service; and also of the Scripture Lesson which had been read. Mrs. Arnold Ray gave a reading. The meeting closed with a hymn and benediction.

Mrs. Murney Johnson moved a vote of thanks to the hostesses for their home and all who helped make the day so successful.

Bethel Girl's Club

The members of Bethel Girl's Club met at the home of Mrs. Jas. Barron on Saturday, February 12th. The President called the meeting to order and opened with theme song.

During the period of worship, Joan Barron read the Scripture Lesson, after which Barbara Hadley read a story pertaining to the lesson on Timothy. The hymn, "Mothers of Salem," was sung and Donalda Heath closed the devotional period with prayer.

During the business period, the Secretary's report was given by Donalda Heath and the Treasurer's report was given by Jean Reid.

Jean Reid opened the programme with a Valentine poem, followed by a piano solo, by Mariene Hadley; reading, by Barbara Hadley; game of fortunes, conducted by Marion Reid.

Within my heart he liveth still.

The Hospitals

Monday, February 21st. The morning from 9.00 o'clock was spent at the General in Kingston. Morley Ayhart had a pleasant surprise when we arrived with Mrs. Ayhart who stayed with him until 1.30 p.m. Following his operation, Morley was feeling fine but a trifle sore. Certainly, under all the circumstances he was as cheerful as could possibly be expected.

Mrs. Ernie Munro we found walking about in her room waiting, expecting soon to go into the operation theatre. There are times when it does one good to go to visit patients in hospital; we were cheered to find them all in good spirits, patient and hopeful.

Mrs. J. H. Beatty asked her doctor,
"May I soon go home?" "Sorry," he replied, "We don't discuss such things on Sundays." It may be that she will have to spend some more days still at Kingston, but again, she is of a quiet mind and was greatly encouraged by a visit.

Mrs. E. A. Carleton had good news,
she hoped to be home on Wednesday.

At Belleville we found Mrs. Walter Barker still in bed surrounded by flowers and cards her many friends had sent her. Not too well on Saturday, she seemed more herself on Monday. All she wants, she said was to get home and "rest on her own settee for an hour."

Rotary International Celebrates Golden Anniversary Wednesday

Stirling Club Organized April 9th, 1949 — Trenton Rotary Club Was Sponsor

Fifty years ago yesterday, (Wednesday, February 23rd, 1905) four lonely Chicago businessmen inaugurated a plan to brighten their work-day world with relaxation and good companionship. They had decided to rotate between each other's offices once a week and stay a while for lunch.

These four friendly men had no idea what they were starting. Their little group increased and their idea got around so that today there are more than 8,476 Rotary Clubs in 89 countries. These thousands of clubs are all motivated by the same spirit — service to others — and they have a total membership of something approaching 407,000.

To commemorate the Golden Anniversary, club members throughout the world have been asked to re-dedicate themselves to the Rotary ideals of service and Christian charity. Each Rotary Club is requested to take on a special project to mark the 50th milestone.

Local Club Formed In 1949

The Rotary Club of Stirling was formed on April 19th, 1949 at a special meeting held in the Community Hall. It was sponsored by the Rotary Club of Trenton and its Charter Officers were: President, Alton Hadley; Vice-President, Wm. A. Sutherland; Secretary, Harold E. Baker; Treasurer, Earl G. Bailey; Directors, C. I. Hutton, W. T. Elliott, Dr. Wm. Cornett; Sergeant-At-Arms, J. V. Hoyt.

Charter members were Harold Wells, B. Woodbeck, Geo. Crown, Ed. Warren, H. C. Bird, Ralph Vandervoort, A. O. Dalrymple, Ed. Ketcheson and George Noble.

Those who have filled the office of Chairman are A. Hadley, Dr. Cornett, C. I. Hutton, H. J. Wells, Oliver Dalrymple and the present incumbent, Dr. R. W. Vandervoort.

The present officers are President, Dr. Vandervoort; Vice-President, Ed. Warren; Secretary, Geo. Noble; Treasurer, D. Duffin; Directors, H. C. Bird, E. Ketcheson, C. West and R. A. Patterson.

The Club now has a membership of thirty and meetings are held every Tuesday at 6.10 p.m.

Message From Golden Anniversary Committee Chairman

H. J. Wells, chairman of the anniversary committee states the local club has helped children who have had polio, purchased glasses for children, sent children to Toronto for X-Rays; provided transportation for children to Oak Lake during summer and supervised swimming; supervised playgrounds in summer at recreational grounds; sent out Christmas baskets, and have helped in numerous other ways.

All the Rotary Club members are very active and really enjoy meeting every week to discuss current topics and forget the worries of business for a time.

The Rotary Club of Stirling has been well blessed with good leaders in the past and have always had a hard working executive, and we are fortunate in having a good group of members to continue this worthwhile work.

This year being our Golden Anniversary Year, it has meant some extra work, and our major programme for this year is Safety Patrol, to encourage safety and to get the children safety minded. We feel if we can save one child from injury we will be well repaid for our efforts. With the co-operation of parents, Town Council,

H. J. WELLS
Past President, and Chairman of Golden Anniversary Committee

Town Constable, teachers and everyone of us, we think that we can achieve this goal and we hope that we have your co-operation in this undertaking. We also would like to state that the Principal of the Stirling Public School has given us outstanding help and leadership in this project.

You can readily understand that a project like this costs our Club considerable money and expense. The citizens of Stirling and area have always been most generous in supporting all our projects, and without this support we could not offer these worthwhile services to this community.

The Stirling Rotary Club is not confined to the Village only, but is supposed to include the surrounding district and anyone wishing to join the club from the outside area may do so if there is a Classification open for him. The Club would welcome any inquiries.

If there is any person in our district who knows of a child in need, the Stirling Rotary Club would be pleased to learn of the child's name so assistance can be given in any way possible.

In closing this committee hopes that the years ahead will be as prosperous for Rotary and that the members will be as anxious to help out in this worthwhile cause as they have been in the past.

Mrs. Roy Bush Hostess To River Valley W.M.A.

The Woman's Missionary Auxiliary met at the home of Mrs. Roy Bush on February 15th with an attendance of ten members and one visitor. The President, Mrs. Ernest Carr, opened the meeting by reading a poem and the singing of hymn "O Master Let Me Walk With Thee," followed by the Lord's Prayer in unison.

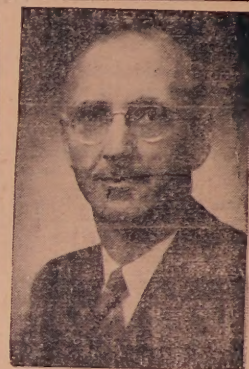

Thank you notes were read from Mrs. Moore, Miss Bly and Mrs. Zuidema. The members were reminded of the World's Day of Prayer to be held this year in St. Paul's United Church, Stirling, on February 25th. There were two cards sent, 7 home calls and 3 hospital calls reported.

The various secretaries reported and the meeting was turned over to Mrs. Ross Holland. The theme of the worship period was "Prayer." Mrs. Holland gave a reading "Prayer," Hymn, "The Church's One Foundation," was sung, followed by prayer.

Mrs. Ross Bush read the Scripture Lesson and the 3rd chapter of the study book was reviewed by Mrs. Holland, "The Struggle For Men's Minds." There has been great progress of the Christian Church in the past century and a half, but there are too many uncomfortable facts in the world today to permit us to rest content on its laurels. There are more countries closed to the preaching of the gospel than at any other time in memory.

A vocal solo was rendered by Mrs. George Heasman, "I Will Pilot Thee," accompanied by Mrs. Phil Conley. Roll call was reported to by reading a verse containing the word "Prayer." The Bible Study was taken by Mrs. Roy Bush, "Paul's letter to the Ephesians." The meeting closed by singing hymn, "In Christ There is No East or West" and the benediction.

Lunch was served by Mrs. Bush and the lunch committee. Mrs. John Kane voiced thanks to the hostess for the use of her home, to Mrs. Holland for the programme and to the lunch committee for the lovely lunch.

NEWS FOR THE BUSY FARMER

RODNEY AND GARRY OATS
IN THE EAST

Rodney and Garry oats, two new varieties produced at the Cereal Breeding Laboratory, Winnipeg, have been tested in the East during the past two years. The results so far indicate that both varieties are quite well adapted in Ontario and western Quebec, but show much less promise in other areas of Quebec and in the Maritime provinces, says R. A. Derick, Cereal Division, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa.

Rodney is classed as a medium late variety while Garry is nearly a week earlier and will mature almost as early as Beaver. Both have fairly good straw and could be considered suitable varieties for combining. Rodney however, has extremely short plump kernels which may dehull readily unless care is taken in threshing or combining. Garry, while having reasonably plump kernels and a little longer than those of Rodney, does not dehull as readily.

Rodney is resistant to all races of stem rust except the comparatively new race 7A. Garry is resistant to all stem rust races. Both varieties are resistant to about 75 per cent of the races of crown or leaf rust identified in Canada.

The seed supply of Rodney for the 1955 crop in the East may be limited although a considerable acreage was grown in Ontario in 1954. The quality of seed may vary greatly due to poor harvesting conditions.

The indications are that there will be no seed of Garry oats available for eastern growers in 1955.

Area Hog Men Asked To Back Selling Agency

Charles McInnis, president of the Ontario Hog Producers' Association, says farmers should fight for what he terms "the right to market their own product."

Speaking at the annual meeting of the Hastings County Hog Producers' Association, he said Wednesday the right of producers to market their products through their own marketing agency — United Livestock Sales — will be challenged in a test case in Stratford in three months.

The challenge will be made by a Perth County farmer, who is opposed to farm organizations, Mr. McInnis said.

Mr. McInnis appealed for support of the selling agency because, he said, it had raised the price paid to producers of Ontario hogs an average of $2.00 a hog since the agency was formed two years ago.

Officers
Irwin McCoy, of Marmora Township, was elected President of the Association; Bruce Robinson, Madoc, Vice-President, and Gordon G. Bailey, of Harold, Secretary-Treasurer.

FEDERATION AT NAPANEE

A zone meeting of the Federation of Agriculture will be held Friday, February 25th at Napanee in morning and afternoon sessions. One of their subjects is likely to be aimed at Theodore Parker's challenge of the validity of the marketing legislation, particularly in the detail of directing a hog produced to a specific market. This meeting precedes the annual of the Ontario Hog Producers in Toronto on March 2nd and 3rd, and is likely to warm up a rehearsal of the marketing agency question, a major promotion of the Ontario Federation.

River Valley Farm Forum

River Valley Farm Forum met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Heasman for their last meeting with twenty-five in attendance. Last week five hundred and thirty-eight Forums met in Ontario.

The topic was "Which is better off — the farmer or the urban worker?" Much can be said in favour of both. A great deal depends on the individual whether raised in the country or the city. The urban worker has more cash income (subject to unemployment), more modern conveniences, but often has farther to go to work, sometimes an hour going and returning home. The urban worker works shorter hours and probably has more ways to tempt him to spend his income as fast as it is earned; more real holidays; more time for hobbies; more chances of recreation closer to him. He is also more liable to be laid off work if times are dull than a farm labourer. He must punch the time clock and never under any circumstances be late at work. The city labourer has to buy everything, even the water he drinks. Another advantage is working inside on hot, cold or stormy weather.

On the other hand the farmer or farm labourer has to contend with all kinds of weather conditions, as much has to be done regardless of rain, snow or heat, as in summer working in the hot sun, bringing in cows to milk no matter how hard it rains; in winter to pump water etc. in the cold. His work goes on seven days a week with many chores morning and evening. The average farmer is often short of help and he cannot pay the same wage rate as in the city. If he wishes to take a day off between chore times he can do so; if tired he is free to sit down and rest awhile, but may lose some of his crop if too much time is taken off.

By working longer hours, investing the last dollar he makes and borrowing in some cases to make improvements, by the time he is past working he may if very fortunate have enough to live comfortably, if not too tired to enjoy his last days.

Taking everything into consideration, each is better off in some ways than the other; but on the whole the urban and country worker are about even.

A letter was sent to a former resident of River Valley, Guy Bolton, who is seriously ill in Brantford Hospital.

Homogenized milk is made by forcing milk through tiny holes under heavy pressure. This breaks down the butterfat into minute particles for easier digestibility.

Research Works With The Farmer

Probably no other industry in Canada has as much research directed towards increasing its efficiency as agriculture. Hundreds of workers from coast to coast at federal and provincial experimental farms and research laboratories are making intensive studies of a wide variety of agricultural problems. These range from studies in animal nutrition to development of disease resistant crops; from soil conservation to woodlot management; from the effects of soil conditions to the economics of recently developed pest control chemicals.

In universities and at science service laboratories answers are being sought to such questions as: How do insects develop resistance to insecticides? Can some of the diseases affecting plants and livestock be reduced by feeding trace minerals? A new tool has been placed in the scientists' hands — radio active tracers — which makes certain phases of their work infinitely easier.

Industry too is playing its part by providing better fertilizers and more effective chemicals for killing weeds and insects. Test plots are maintained to study how industrial products can best be used to increase crop yields and provide more abundant food supplies for all Canadians.

Once the work of research has borne fruit, the information is passed to the farmer in many ways. The story is told in newspapers and farm magazines; over the radio and on television. Pamphlets and motion pictures are made readily available to junior farmer short courses and adult study classes.

What other Canadian business can boast of such intensive interest in performing a good job still better?

Hog Producers To Meet In March

Another winter schedule of farm meetings and conventions is trailing off toward the close.

One of the most interesting still on the list is the Ontario Hog Producers, March 2nd and 3rd, at the King Edward Hotel, Toronto.

The 24th annual meeting of the Canadian Council of 4-H Clubs is at the Royal York Hotel, Toronto, on March 7th to 9th.

Central Ontario Spring Show at Peterborough, March 16th to 18th.

Ontario Farm Radio Forum, annual meeting, Royal York Hotel, Toronto, on Wednesday, April 6th.

Rich Uranium At Faraday Mine

Spectacular uranium values are still being obtained in underground development at Faraday Uranium Mines, Bow Lake, south of Bancroft.

Fifteen hundred tons of ore drawn from 200 feet of drifting west of the west adit has been assayed at $65.83 per ton. The average width of the ore for 190 feet of this heading is 7.3 feet.

Development of this drift level is being pushed toward several diamond drill intersections that some months ago indicated sizeable ore dikes of excellent values.

On the strength of these encouraging results the management has ordered an additional 3,500 feet of underground lateral work from the mining contractors.

Meanwhile, surface drilling has been started to determine the depth of the ore bodies that are being opened up at adit levels. Holes, 200 feet apart, will be put down 450 feet at an angle of 45 degrees.

"Let's make it this Sunday!"

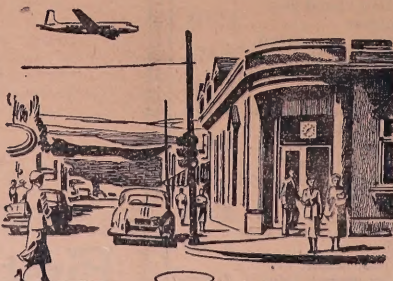

A CASUAL phone call, and "this Sunday" suddenly becomes an extra special Sunday! Whether the call comes from miles away or just around the corner, the invitation seems so much more personal, more inviting, when you hear it over the telephone.

Old and young alike turn to the phone when they're in a hurry. A round-up of the gang, a family reunion, a holiday dinner, a big date — it's faster, more exciting to telephone! And even the blow of bad news can usually be softened by a sympathetic voice. Next to seeing the people you care about is hearing their warm, familiar voices.

Among the benefits of Branch Banking...

Your local bank is an essential link between your community and the whole banking world.

In remote areas, Canadians enjoy the same broad range of bank services, the same sense of security.

As communities develop, banking services are made available to meet new and growing needs.

Banking in Canada works in such a way that your local branch manager brings you all the resources, knowledge and experience of the bank he represents. It has branches throughout Canada and provides contacts the world over. The benefits of this branch banking system, developed to meet Canadian needs, are demonstrated every day by the quality and scope of your local banking service.

Little Birch Hunt Club

The members of the "Little Birch Hunt Club," Ken Ray, Bert Heagle and John Wallace, of Stirling, and Len Reid, Harold Bryant, Lloyd Thompson, Dr. Jack Beach, Gerald Wiley, Harold Reid, Cam Reid, Russell Free, Oscar Farrar and Harold Wiley, of Frankford, entertained their wives and friends at their annual turkey dinner catered to by the ladies of Trinity Church Guild, Frankford. Eleven tables of Military Whist were played, winners being Mr. and Mrs. Ken Ray and Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Finkle. The remainder of the evening was spent dancing, music being supplied by Doug and Evelyn Nelson.

Ball and Chain Club

The Rev. R. W. T. Middleton, B.A., was the speaker at the "Ball and Chain Club" of St. Paul's United Church on Wednesday, February 16th. Speaking on "Humour," a subject which he illustrated in many ways and a wealth of stories, Mr. Middleton spoke of humour as would the Greek as the much needed "medicine" of life.

A man is known, said the speaker, by the way he spends his time, his money and his words. It is to be regretted that too many who imagine that they are being funny, are merely making up in vulgarity what they lack in wit. He gave many examples of the latter but none of the former.

A more pleasant evening would be difficult to arrange. In spite of heavy snow, a dozen couples were present at the meeting.
